HUNT DOWN "REDS" IN CHICAGO WITH ANARCHY BUREAU

AMALGAMATION OF CITY, STATE AND FEDERAL FORCES

MISS GOLDMAN MAY TALK

High Priestess Will be Watched—Averbuch Acted Alone in Murderous Assault

CHICAGO, March 5.—An "anarchist bureau," consisting of the heads of the police department, immigration bureau and United States attorneys will be organized to consider the problems that will arise in the crusade against anarchists. The police shall seek Emma Goldman, who was scheduled to address three Friday meetings. She will be permitted a talk unless she incites violence. The police and city attorneys will attend the meetings.

'Reds" Make Bogus Coin

Five men, believed to be anarchists, and two women, alleged counterfeiters, were captured in a raid by United States secret service officers and the police today. The police found a man attempting to pass spurious silver, and sweated him for eighteen hours, when he confessed. A complete outfit for making counterfeit dollars was found and confiscated.

Shippy at Office.

Sullenly defying the police, Rose Stearn, the 18 year old sweetheart of the dead assassin, Lazarus Averbuch, was arrested on the west side laste yesterday. She was at once submitted to a grilling examination.

United States District Attorney Edwin A. Sims and Immigration Inspector Seraphic joined in "sweating" the girl.

When the girl reached the office under heavy guard Harry Goldstein, secretary of the Edelstadt society, previously arrested, was brought in and confronted by her.

Chief Shippy made his first appearance at his office since the battle with Lazarus Averbuch, which resulted in the shooting of Harry Shippy and James Foley, a dagger wound suffered by the chief himself and the death of the anarchist.

Chief Shippy only passed a second in his office. He hurried to the may-

"HETTY" GREEN AND ENGAGED DAUGHTER IN $19 A MONTH FLAT

Miss Sylvia Green.

NEW YORK, March 5.—Since the announcement of the engagement of Miss Sylvia Green, daughter of Hetty Green, the richest woman in the world, to Mathew Astor Wilks, a great grandson of the original Jacob Astor, newspaper reporters have sought to locate Mrs. Green and her daughter.

"Go away, stop ringing my bell, or I'll scream for the police," was the way Hetty welcomed a caller yesterday, who found her living under an assumed name in a $19-a-month flat, one block from the ferry in Hoboken.

Mrs. Green moved to her present home about six weeks ago. It is on the fourth floor of a dyspeptic-looking house, not far from where she lived before. There is no elevator. Mrs. Greene's daughter is with her. There is a rear entrance, which both women always use. Neighbors say the Green furniture arrived after dark and was hustled in before they could get a look at it. Mrs. Green goes to her office in the Chemical bank three days a week.

"Her daughter comes here every morning," the corner grocer said. "She gets a pair of eggs, a loaf of bread and a pint of milk in a cracked pitcher. Their trade ain't much, but they're good pay."

"She ain't a bit sociable," said one of the other tenants. "I tried to get the makings of a cup of tea from her, and she informed me through the keyhole that tea was bad for me."

CHIEF OF POLICE SHIPPY WHO SHOT HIS WOULD-BE MURDERER

Chief Shippy returned to his office yesterday afternoon for the first time since he was wounded, and took part in an important conference touching the anti-anarchist campaign.

BREEDERS MEET AT SALEM

State Experts Deliver Addresses on Disease and Fifty Farmers Will See Tests Here Friday

WEST SALEM, Wis., March 5.—(Special.)—The La Crosse County Guernsey Breeders' association held their regular meeting here yesterday and about 250 farmers of La Crosse county attended. The meeting was successful and several important papers and articles were taken up, including the report of Robert Laphmend of the university of Wisconsin, who has been engaged by the association to make an examination of the cattle in that locality.

The repor t foPrfUpLxa,vpc shrdiu

The report of Prof. Laphmend shows that he has examined twenty-five herds in that vicinity and 644 head of cattle and in this number found but 30 or about three per cent of those examined affected.

Prof. Conrad Hoffman, also of the university, gave an address on tuberculosis, explaining its origin and symptoms. Following Prof. Hoffman's address, the members asked numerous questions on the disease which the professor answered.

The tuberculosis test, which will be conducted at the packing plant of Langdon & Boyd at La Crosse was spoken of and about 50 of those present at the meeting signified their intention of attending the test.

Charles Hill of Rosendale, Wis., one of the foremost breeders of guernsey cattle in this country, gave an address and spoke of his recent trip to the Guernsey Isle and also of the progress made with this variety of cattle in this country during the past few years. He has records of the guernsey cattle showing that one guernsey heifer held a record of the United States having produced 800 pounds of butter in one year.

Prof. R. A. Moore of the state university gave two addresses upon the subjects, "Corn" and "Alfalfa."

AGED LADY ESCAPES DEATH IN FLAMES

VIROQUA, Wis., March 5.—(Special.)—The home of Mrs. Adam Doerr, west of here was burned at midnight. The fire started in the wing used as a kitchen and was noticed by neighbors, but by the time they arrived it was beyond control. Mrs. Doerr is 78 years of age, and while she escaped herself, being aroused by the smoke and heat, she was unable to save anything. She lived alone on the property. Mrs. Doerr is the mother of Mrs. Neil McLeen, living near here.

ILLINOIS MILITIA PLANS

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 5.—The early August primaries will cause a shortening of the encampment of the national guard here, the 1st, 4th and 8th regiments being detailed at Indianapolis for the regular army maneuvers. The first cavalry camps at Dresden Heights for a week. The state encampment is June 15 to August 1.

MRS. HART-M'KEE MAKES "FIERCE" CHARGES

DIVORCE SUIT IS SENSATION

Husband Squandered Her Wealth and Insulted 32 Domestics at Home

Paris, March 5—In the Hart-McKee divorce case Maitre Barboux, counsel for Mrs. McKee, outlined the case he said he is prepared to prove in her demand for a divorce from her Pittsburg millionaire.

After describing the couple's position and lives in America, he said McKee proposed marriage a few days after meeting the woman, now his wife. He told her he was free to marry, but during the engagement was compelled to spend $300 to settle the divorce case of his first wife, the attorney declared.

"McKee posed as a rich man, and promised to allow his wife $25,000 yearly for dress," Barboux continued. "He said she need not wear her gloves twice. After the marriage McKee's first care was to get $20,000 allowed for his wife's child by her former husband, Mr. Tevis, doubled. He then compelled his wife to write to her father and withdraw her money, $450,000, from a trust company, so that McKee might manage it. Soon after the marriage the couple went to Monte Carlo where McKee gambled and lost heavily. Mrs. McKee never played.

Twenty-six Charges of Cruelty.

McKee abused his wife and threatened her with a revolver. He

ONE MONUMENT, ONE FUNERAL AND ONE GRAVE FOR ALL

THE 162 VICTIMS OF FIRE TO BE BURIED FRIDAY

ALL ARE ACCOUNTED FOR

Inspection of Building Leads to Controversy as to Culpability of School Authorities

CLEVELAND, O., March 5.—There are 162 bodies in the Lake Shore morgue this morning, 97 of which have been identified. The bodies the laid out in rows, and parents are led past by attendants to identify their little ones. It is feared some of the mothers of the dead have lost their reason. Bertha Robinson, whose two daughters are dead, attempted suicide.

The search of the ruins began again early today, and a public funeral may be held Friday. All business is suspended.

The last three bodies found this forenoon account for all missing says the Collinwood city engineer, Gould, who is in charge. Before noon 110 had been positively identified. Coroner Burke, who is in charge of the identification, says that thirty of the bodies are burned beyond hope of recognition.

The Collinwood board of trade has appropriated $5,000, and the town council an additional $5,000, to help the poor pay for funerals.

The Collinwood board of education has investigated the cause of the fire. There is no proof of incendiarism, and the architects disbelieve the furnace was the cause. The janitor testified that he opened the outside doors, but other testimony conflicts. The plans show that the rear doors open outward, but the fact as to this is disputed.

State Factory Inspector Morgan has been ordered to inspect the ruins. The authorities are liable if they permitted the use of a building not complying with the provisions of the law. The building never was inspected by the state.

One Funeral, One Monument.

One funeral for all the Collinwood victims will be held, probably Friday. One field will contain all the graves, unless private funerals for some are desired. One monument will mark the spot where they rest. The cost will be paid by a common fund, and the city buys the field. The unidentified bodies will be placed in numbered graves. There will be services in all churches at the same time. The date will be fixed tonight.

INSPECT SCHOOL BLDGS.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 5.—The state board of health has begun a crusade to remedy defects in school house construction, as a result of the Collinwood fire. All buildings will be inspected. The attention of school authorities is being called to the penalty for permitting doors to open inward.

DRAGGING RIVER FOR MISSING MAN

TREMPEALEAU, Wis., March 5.—(Special.)—Up to 3 o'clock this afternoon no trace was found of Elam Donehover, who mysteriously disappeared the first of the week, although a searching party has been working since yesterday.

The party in search is now at work dragging the river about a mile south of here, where Donehover has been accustomed to cross. Although no breaks were found in the ice, circumstances indicate he met foul play and the dragging of the river is expected to throw some light upon the mystery. Reed, the half-breed with whom Donehover quarreled, has not been arrested. All the surrounding country was gone over by the searching party to no avail.

DYING DEFAULTER ARRESTED

CHELSEA, Mich., March 5.—Frank P. Glazier, the indicted ex-state treasurer of Michigan has been arrested, but it is considered doubtful if Glazier will ever appear in court to answer the charges brought against him. A man who is close connected with the Glazier family said: "I doubt if he survives another month. I am certain he never will recover sufficiently to stand trial."

SHERMAN TAKES BRIDE

EFFINGTON, Ill., March 5.—Lawrence Y. Sherman, lieutenant governor of Illinois, was married yesterday afternoon to Miss Estella Spitler at the county home of the bride's mother, eight miles east of Effingham. Tonight the lieutenant governor and his bride depart for a honeymoon tour of three months through Mexico and the Hawaiian islands.

WOMAN OF MYSTERY IS KNOWN TO SOCIETY IN ROY-CALLA MURDER CASE

This is a picture of the Baroness Von Orendorf, whose name has been brought prominently forward in connection with the Roy-Calla murder case. The baroness is well known in Washington and Paris, and is a woman of mystery.

Look Up Citizenship of Roy

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The question of the citizenship of Paul E. Roy, whom the state of New Hampshire is seeking to have extradited from France in connection with the murder of George Carkins, brother of Glacia Calla, has been raised at the state department. If it should be decided that Roy had actually been naturalized or even declared his intention before the killing, as is alleged by the state authorities, the state department officials have no doubt that his extradition can be secured but not otherwise.

LA CROSSE SIGNS UP MORE GOOD PLAYERS

WILL HAVE STRONGEST TEAM TO START SEASON

FOUR CONTRACTS IN TODAY

Rockford Is Hustling for Players and There Will Be a Lively Tilt from the Season's Opening

Several more contracts for players in the 1908 team were received this morning by President John A. Elliott of the La Crosse Baseball association.

George Flynn, pitcher, sent in his contract today from his home in Chicago and wants to play here again.

A. J. Burgois who was received in exchange for Bubser from Oshkosh, has also been signed up for the season of 1908. He is a crack utility man and comes from Chicago with a great record.

The contract of William D. Minor, Indianapolis, Ind., was also received this morning, and Bailey has also signed up again.

Will Be Great Fight.

La Crosse will have some of the best players in the country for the class of baseball played in cities of this size, to select from, and the prospects for a pennant winning team in 1908 are great.

Rockford, it is understood, is getting all the players possible which can be taken from the larger leagues and it is understood that they have men out signing up good men.

They will do all possible to wrest the pennant from the other teams, and as La Crosse will try hard to win the third pennant, the contest in the teams in 1908 will no doubt wax warmer than ever before.

"AIR" LINE RECEIVER

LA PORTE, Ind., March 5.—Judge C. Richter on the petition of holders of the Chicago-New York Air Line stock to the amount of $200,000, appointed George F. Mull, an Indianapolis attorney, receiver. Judgment is prayed for $1,000,000.

JOINT R'Y AND LABOR CONFERENCE IN CHICAGO

HOURS OF SERVICE LAW CAUSE

Rumor in Chicago That Roads Are Prepared to Meet a Labor War

CHICAGO, Barch 5.—Representatives of western railroads and labor organizations met here today to readjust the working conditions of employes affected by the Esch law limiting the hours of service. The railroads threaten to discharge many men, reduce the number of trains and extend the telephone instead of the telgraph service. They also intimated a possible reduction in wages. The unions declare no reduction will be accepted.

It is rumored that 2,000 non-union switchmen have been recruited here.

ROAD QUIT CLAIMS LAND TO CITY

A quit claim deed was filed by the Milwaukee road today to land between the Spence park and the proposed Riverside park to be used for a driveway.

The deed specifies that the land shall be given over to the city upon the condition that it be used for park purposes and that in the event that it is used for anything else it shall revert back to the railroad company.

BADGER RHODES CANDIDATES.

MADISON, Wis., March 5.—President Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin has just been notified that the following named three candidates who took the examination for Rhodes scolarships on Jan. 21-22, were successful: Wesley F. Ayer, Beloit college; Louis P. Lochner, Milwaukee, University of Wisconsin; William J. McGucken, Marquette college.

That the attitude of the mikado makes settlement of the controversy difficult, is the unofficial admission of British officials.

Will "Cut It Up."

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Horace E. Edwards, for twenty years a resident of Pekin, says:

"Japan awaits a favorable opportunity to attack China. The Chinese resistance will be feeble. Japan has tied up all the nations except Germany and the United States with treaties, and it is believed in Tokio that these two will be neutral. It is thought to be the joint Russian and Japanese plan to divide Manchuria."

GREEK SWEETHEARTS CULMINATE ROMANCE

After a correspondence courtship of six months, Miss Nellie Hadreas of this city and Mr. Peter Marurousis of Minneapolis will be married this evening at 6 o'clock at the business establishment of a friend on North Fourth street.

The story of the courtship, which is as romantic as a novel, dates back to the time that they were children in their native country, Greece. They were both born in Sparta, Greece, and during childhood were sweethearts.

About seven years ago the young man came to America and located in Minneapolis, where he is a prospering young business man. About six years later his sweetheart followed him to this country and has been residing with her brother, George Hadreas of the firm of Santrizos & Hadreas.

They corresponded for some time and after his vowing his love for her through the letters, she accepted him.

The ceremony which is to be performed by a Green priest from Minneapolis, will be held in the presence of a few relatives and friends.

FUNERAL OF MRS. REID TOMORROW

The funeral services of Mrs. Judge R. S. Reid will be held tomorrow morning from the home, 1309 Main street, at 9:30 o'clock, Rev. Henry Faville of the First Congregational church will conduct the services. The body will be shipped over the Milwaukee road on the fast mail to Hudson, Wis., tomorrow noon and after a short service at the grave, interment will take place in the family lot at the Hudson cemetery.

Judge Ray S. Reid arrived from Washington at 7 o'clock this morning and Mrs. W. D. Morse, sister of Mrs. Reid arrived in the city last evening.

16 MINERS IN PERIL.

BIRMINGHAM, Eng., March 5.—Sixteen men are entombed in Hamstead colliery, and a fire prevents their rescue.

WEATHER FORECAST

Coldest 34; warmest 40; wind 4 miles; precipitation, trace.

Devils Lake with 2 below and San Antonio with 84 were the extremes of temperature yesterday.

Forecasts today:

Wisconsin—Rain or snow tonight and Friday, not much change in temperature.

Minnesota—Snow tonight and Friday colder tonight.

Iowa—Rain or snow tonight and Friday, not much change in temperature.

Weather Conditions.

Rain or snow has been quite generally from the Pacific coast to the Mississippi valley and upper lakes, and continues at several stations this morning.

The temperature has risen throughout the Mississippi valley and remained nearly stationary elsewhere.

The pressure continues highest from Saskatchewan to the Atlantic states and the depression remains central in the southwest but has spread northeasterd into the central Mississippi valley.

These conditions favor rain and snow in this section during the next 36 hours, with no decided change in temperature but probably somewhat lower Friday.

A Square Deal

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and their formulas are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless even to the most delicate women and children. Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles used in them, viz.—pure triple-refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption in its advanced stages, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

Milwaukee Automobile Club Prepares for Test Run Which Starts on March 10

ORMOND-DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., March 5.—L. J. Bergdoll of Philadelphia in a sixty-horse power Benz car won the 125 mile race for gentlemen drivers on the beach in 1:13:30 1-5, thus breaking the record he established for the distance of 1:30:38 in the 150 mile race. The sixty-horse power Fiat car, driven by S. B. Stevens of the Automobile club of America, was second.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 5. — Details and rules for the three-day automobile reliability race, promoted by the Milwaukee Automobile Trade association, practically were decided upon at a meeting of the members yesterday afternoon. The start will be made at 6 o'clock on the morning of March 10. The smaller cars will be first sent away on the long grind.

The route will be designated by long strips of paper scattered by the occupants of the route car. A slight change in the route was made. Instead of going from Evansville to Beloit, by way of Orfordville, the route will be by way of Janesville.

RIPON AGAINST PROFESSIONALISM

RIPON, Wis., March 5.—"Ripon will stand with the members of the 'Big Eight' in regard to the professionalism in college sports," declared President R. C. Hughes of Ripon college in speaking of the proposed rules for the conference of Wisconsin college to be held Wednesday at Beloit. "We stand unrevocably for prohibiting students from playing with college athletic teams who have received money for their athletic prowess."

"The professional athlete is not objectional. He may be and generally is as much a gentleman as the amateur. It is the man who knowingly sells his ability for cash making himself a professional and then attempting to pose as an amateur to whom we object. College sports must be kept clean and to do this competiton must be limited to amateurs.

"Although we are not in favor of the professional coach we are willing to provide for special coaches, under the condition that they are responsible directly to the physical director, and are directly employed by the same authority that employs the other members of the faculty. At Ripon, although there is almost complete student control of athletics, it is with the co-operation of the faculty."

Prof. William J. Mutch will represent Ripon at the conference, President Hughes being unable to attend.

Love makes the world go round and also makes a large part of it go broke.

"MYQUE" STILL IS AFTER BEST OF IT

WILL GO GUNNING FOR EAU CLAIRE'S PLAYERS

DOESN'T NEED A GAME SACK

For There Is No Likelihood of Rockford Man Getting Anything—Contracts Listed by Farrell

Rockford is a hot-bed of press agents.

At least the newspaper gang of that city find Myque Golden of baseball connections a better news source than the court house or city hall proves in most cities. Myque is most always pushing the wind about what he's going to do and as it makes good "dope" the boys with the calloses on the ends of their first fingers pound it into copy. Myque's verbosity would insure a discouraged cub reporter of success and would afford the vets an opportunity to fill their note books at one fell swoop, and hie themselves in quest of other "scoops" until it came time to get back to the office.

Myque is a star press agent himself, and his latest sensation is the announcement that he, accompanied by a couple more of Rockford's influential fans will go to the league meeting in Milwaukee Tuesday intent upon making the league force Eau Claire to permit Myque to take the pick of its team. There is apt to come unto Myque a great disappointment, for Eau Claire and the W.-I. league are not one any more, the divorce decree having been signed and sealed when Rockford accepted the franchise transfer papers.

Nevertheless Myque's line of talk is good, and if we were starting a circus, Myque should travel in advance at a good, fat salary.

The Rockford View.

Says the Rockford Star:

"A meeting of the Wisconsin league will be held next Tuesday at which time the Rockford matter will come up and possibly things will be settled satisfactorily to the local magnates.

"The papers in the transfer of the franchise from Eau Claire to Rockford have been passed and are now in the possession of Myque Golden of this city. He will go to Milwaukee Sunday and then it is expected there will be something doing, for Mr. Golden will ask that this city be given at least a trifle more than the paper showing its right to play ball, and unless this is done there is likely to be a call made on Eau Claire to take back its 'gold brick.' Rockford cannot get into the league in the winter time in a bathing suit, and unless something is presented aside from the permit to play ball this city will have to forfeit most of the games.

Worthy Ambitions.

Mr. Golden has been listing a lot of players provisionally and will be prepared to build around the foundation which it is expected to be received from Eau Claire. At least four players will be asked to accompany the franchise, and these will be two pitchers, a catcher and one other. If these are turned over to Rockford with the franchise the remainder of the team will be made up in about a week and Rockford will be able to turn over to its manager a group of men who will be winners from the start. This city will get into the game as the baby but will grow fast and before the season is far advanced some of the other teams will wonder where the steam comes from that keeps the little fellows going.

"Aside from Mr. Golden two others from this city will be at the meeting Tuesday and then there will be a completion of details and the schedule will be made out."

Transfers of Players.

A large number of the baseball players have been changing places during the past two weeks and among them are the following, as shown by the record sheet sent President Elliott by Secretary Farrell of the National commission:

With Fond du Lac—Rex Ames; with Madison, Frank Smith, Richard Hughes, William Spear; with the Wisconsin-Illinois league, umpires Joe Heder and Jack Flynn.

Terms accepted by Oshkosh—Fred Werner, D. J. Laughlin, H. J. Schenk, Charles Grow, S. Rainey, H. J. Fleming, E. R. Stanford, Steve Kolar, Jack O'eNil, Ed Weis, E. L. Carrol.

Released by purchase, by Indianapolis to Terre Haute, Don Cameron, the La Crosse boy formerly of State street, who has starred in the University of Minneosta teams, Iowa, Three-I and Central leagues.

Freeport Gets "Lemon."

Freeport has released by purchase to Clinton, R. J. Mackey, and Clinton to Freeport, Lee Lemon; Toledo to Madison, F. R. Liese.

Contracts with the Western association are Umpires F. C. Gardiner, Ed Finney and J. F. Schuster.

Released by purchase, Toledo to Wausau, John Cross, Frank Erickson, Ralph Comstock; Rock Island to Jopin, Clarence Wanner; Joplin to Rock Island, B. E. Edmunds; Clinton to Freeport, Harry Harrod.

Pitcher Theobald has gone from Washington to the coast and has been signed by the San Francisco team.

Outfielder Leliveler who was "rung in" by Moriarity about a year ago at Freeport versus La Crosse, has gone from Philadelphia to Reading.

Artie O'Dea who played first base with the Lethbridge Canadian team, will manage the Brandon team in the Northern league in 1908.

Madison Sells Stock.

The Madison Baseball association will sell the remaining $1,000 of its capital stock at once.

This decision was reached at a directors' meeting and the work of receiving subscriptions has begun.

The association is in good financial standing. The capital stock of $5,000 was all subscribed for last year, but this $1,000. In selling more stock the directors go before fans on a business proposition. Many expenditures had to be met last year, but with new stock sold and a good team for Madison, the outlook is very bright.

DOUGHERTY WINS KENOSHA FIGHT

KENOSHA, Wis., March 5.—Though handicapped by a bad cut over his left eye Jack Dougherty of Milwaukee gave young Dumgall of Kenosha an awful beating here in six rounds, easily winning a decision. Domgall entered the ring weighing in the neighborhood of 160 pounds. In the first round he caught the Milwaukee boy in the eye with his elbow, opening up a two inch cut. Though the blood flowed in streams from the wound Jack waded in and gave his man a beautiful lacing for the balance of the fight.

In the semi-windup Billy Moorhead of Milwaukee won a decision over Kid Hertz of Kenosha in six rounds. Moorhead was matched to meet another local boy but the latter was so much over weight that Moorhead's manager refused to let him go on.

In the opener Johnny Gardner of Milwaukee stopped Frankie Gardner of Kenosha in the third round.

HOPPE PLAYS A PHENOMENAL GAME

CHICAGO, March 5.—Playing phenomenal billiards, Willie Hoppe, the young professional cue wizard, took a longer lead over Calvin Demarest, the national amateur champion, in the second session of their six nights' match at Mussey's. Notwithstanding the fact that Hoppe played the far more difficult 18-1 game, while Demarest played the 14-2, the New York youth far outclassed the local player, who fell down badly. The score after the night's play was 400 to 214.

Hope ran out his block of 400 points in eighteen innings for the remarkable average of 22 4-18 and repeatedly electrified the spectators by his perfect execution of the hardest kind of shots.

GIANTS GIVE MIKE LYNCH HIS RELEASE

NEW YORK, March 5.—President Pulliam of the National league has announced the following contracts adn releases:

Releases—By Boston to Toronto, S. W. Brown; by Boston to Steubenville, Roy, Dessau, and McCabe; by New York, unconditionally, Michael J. Lynch; by New York to Oakland, Daniel C. Shay; by Pittsburg, to Rochester, W. T. Otey; by St. Louis to St. Paul, P. J. Noonan.

SEBRING WILL JOIN "OUTLAWS"

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 5.—A telegram from Williamsport says that Jimmy Sebring, formerly of the Chcago National league team, but more recently of the Wilmington Tri-State club, has had a fight with his club over salary and has accepted a proposition to play in the California "outlaw" league. For some years Sebring and his wife have been anxious to reside in Californa, and when Sebring had his fight with the Pittsburg management years ago he threatened to jump to California.

HANDY GETS ANOTHER MARK

NEW YORK, March 5.—H. J. Handy, the Chicago amateur swimmer, established a new world's record in the 75-yard back stroke race at Madison Square Garden, the western champion going the distance in 0:54 2-5. C. F. Rubre of the New York Athletic club held the former mark of 0:56 4-5.

"GENERAL' JACOB S. COXEY·

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 4.—Jacob S. Coxey, forever memorable as the leader in 1893 of the hard luck army that bore his name, states that he intends to start the unemployed of St. Louis and vicinity on a pilgrimage to Chicago and there unite with the Chicago unemployed in a demand for work. Since 1893 Coxey has been very fortunate financially, some of his investments proving very successful, and today he is well off, but still persists in his eccentric way to help the unemployed.

JOE GANS' FROU SEEKS SEPARATION

BALTIMORE, Md., March 5.—Joe Gans, the negro lightweight champion, is in the divorce courts of this city again. His wife filed a bill for partial divorce and the court signed an order giving the pugilist until March 19 to show why a counsel fee of $200 and alimony for $50 a week should not be paid while the trial is pending.

Gans sued his wife fo a divorce two years ago, but the bill was dismissed.

Gans, it is claimed, is at present under a five week theatrical engagement at a salary of $1,000 a week. The wife further claims his hotel, known as the Goldfield hotel, in this city is worth $25,000, that he owns an automobile worth $5,000 and that his income amounts to $25,000 a year.

DETROIT WILL HOIST PENNANT JUNE 12

DETROIT, Mich., March 5.—Friday June 12, has been designated as "Flag day" at Bennett park. President Navin made the announcement yesterday. The occasion will be a baseball holiday and elaborate arrangements will be made for raising the American league pennant. New York is the fortunate opponent. The pole for the pennant will be 110 feet in height. It will be erected in far center field, and will tower above any building near Bennett park. Speeches, floral displays and other such doings are scheduled, but the program has not been completed.

VOTE ON BOARD TODAY

From the brief interview with Mr. Doerflinger, published in The Tribune yesterday, it may be presumed that if there shall come to him assurances from substantial business men that they are prepared to uphold his hands in the efforts he may make as president of the La Crosse board of trade, he will accept that office.

What is the board of trade good for? Do we want it, or don't we want it? Public action in this crisis will determine the fate of the organization, in all likelihood. If the board is worth while, if there is enough possibility of good work in it to justify a busy man like Mr. Doerflinger in giving his time and thought to its executive management, it certainly is worthy of the support of the citizen body.

It is like an election, this episode. We must elect to retain the board, or elect to abandon it. It seems to be the duty of every man who is in favor of its continuance, who believes it may be made prolific of good, who wants organized effort put forth to benefit the city—it seems to be the bounden duty of every man who wants these things to say to Mr. Doerflinger that he will do his part in case the latter accepts the presidency.

Don't wait until you run across him. Don't say to yourself or to your friend that you are for the society. Don't wait. Telephone Mr. Doerflinger NOW, or write to him NOW, or call on him NOW.

A SAD CIRCUMSTANCE.

The Wisconsin committee of the International Congress on Tuberculosis has sent out the following surprising and dismally disappointing bulletin:

"In this age of business and moral reform, it is encouraging to find that so much attention is being given by a small portion of the public to the questions that concern the very existence of society. There is a grim humor to the initiated in seeing farmers advocating laws for the protection and for increasing the value of their property, merchants wrangling over freight rates, bankers over the money question, and all remaining until very recently absolutely tranquil over the appalling loss of life due to absolutely preventable diseases.

"The following statements are taken from a letter recently sent out by the American association for the Advancement of Science on National Health:

" 'Out of 80,000,000 of our people, 8,000,000 must perish from tuberculosis, the white scourge, which with proper regulation enforced by the federal power can be exterminated as completely as the once dreaded smallpox.'

" 'The public have no means of obtaining reliable health information, and the thousand questions which anxious fathers and mothers ask themselves, go unanswered simply because there is no office at Washington equipped for the purpose. If strawberries wilt in New Jersey or lambs fall sick in Arizona, the Department of Agriculture gives elaborate instructions as to what should be done. But two millions of human beings die each year, a large proportion, and literally because they cannot find out how to live.'

"The Wisconsin committee of the International Congress on Tuberculosis has asked for a fund of $5,000 to prosecute a war on tuberculosis in Wisconsin and has pled for donations of from five cents upwards and the returns have been discouraging.

'Thousands of dollars have been subscribed for the advancement of dairying, for the prevention of cruelty to animals, for the advancement of trade, and pennies are grudgingly given to insure the health and lives of the human residents of Wisconsin.

"Evidence to the contrary, nobody really believes that the value of a human life is less than that of even a herd of cattle, a field full of grain or the comfort of a hundred horses or dogs.

"Donations should be forwarded to the treasurer of the Wisconsin committee, Mr. John Kepmeier, Wells Bldg., Milwaukee, and may be made by check, money order, currency or postage stamps."

The bulletin hardly needs comment. It is not a flattering commentary on our humanity, as a state, that within all our wide and rich area there has not been forthcoming even the pitifully inadequate sum asked for in the name of health. Pain, suffering, want, death—these laugh in triumph at the thoughtlessness or penury of a people mighty in their intelligence and progressiveness. What carelessness, what blindness to "the things that so nearly concern our temporal salvation," is told in this poor, sad little story from a commission which is unselfishly striving to serve the best interests of humanity. It is to be hoped that this latest plea for assistance will be heeded, and that there may not remain the possiblity that another bulletin so condemnatory of our commonwealth shall find its way into the hands of our neighbors in other states. For very shame's sake, let this committee be properly financed. The Tribune hopes that La Crosse will promptly contribute something more than its pro rata to this deserving fund.

FOR BOTH HANDS AND BRAIN

During the meeting in Washington, D. C., of the department of superintendence of the National Education association war was vigorously waged between the two schools of thought on the question of industrial education. On the one hand there are those who insist the child should be trained to become proficient in some trade, to learn the use of his hands, to go out into the world and make his living. The advocates of such training place efficient industrial education foremost for the average child. They do not subscribe to the theory that the essential element in education for the average child is culture. On the other hand, is the school of educators who believe that at the basis of the education of every child stands the idea of culture, that every child should receive a certain degree of cultural training and that with this foundation to begin on industrial training should follow.

President Roosevelt himself was drawn into the discussion, which he touched upon during his address. He gravitated to the side of those that are pushing to the fore the idea of industrial training to the exclusion of culture. By so doing he drew on himself sharp disapproval from those who are opposed to going, as they regard it, to extremes in industrial training.

The president told the superintendents in substance that every boy should be taught to make a living and every girl should be taught to make a home. He placed the hobo at one end of the scale and the idle rich in the same category, and said he had no more respect for the one than the other.

We cannot decline to take seriously the contention that there is danger of going too far in the idea of industrial and agricultural training and elimination of culture in education, that it is un-American, that it means the building up in this country of two classes, the cultured class and the class of those who work with their hands; nor is it impossible to believe that back of this movement toward training of the hands without any real education of the mind stand big manufacturing and capitalistic interests that want to make skilled labor plenty and wages cheap. Strange as it may seem, it is possible that before this problem is threshed out organized labor may be enlisted in it against the plan of building up a class of the cultured and a class of those skilled with their hands but not cultured. We like the doctrine that every child should have as far as possible the same basic education, the same opportunities for culture, whether he is rich or poor, and then, with a good foundation of general education to start on the child should learn to do something with his hands.

Mrs. Harry Skinner's triumphal entry into social note via the coachman route is apt to be resented as an intrusion by the Hartje outfit, whose star of emminence is waning in the Smoky City fashionable circles.

To Judge Ray S. Reid the whole community turns with sympathy in his bereavement.

FASHION HINTS

By MAY MANTON

5921 Kimono with Yoke, Small, Medium, Large.

The simple full kimona that is made with a smoothly fitted yoke is a favorite one and is always graceful and becoming at the same time that it is easily made. This one can be made either long or short, in sacque style, and with the loose or bishop sleeves. In the illustration a pretty flowered batiste is trimmed with bands of plain color but these are a great many available materials this season for garments of the sort and many of them are charming in effect while meaning little cost. The inexpensive printed wash fabrics are very charming and there are a whole host of Japanese designs to be found in challis and similar light weight wools while soft silks, crepes and the like are always in vogue.

The kimona is made with the yoke, the fronts and the back. These last are gathered and joined to the yoke and the collar-band completes the edge. The full sleeves are simply faced at their lower edges but those in bishop style are gathered into cuffs.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 9 yards 24, 7¾ yards 32 or 5 yards 44 inches wide with 1⅞ yards of silk or 5¼ yards of ribbon for bands for long kimono; 4¼ yards 24, 3½ yards 32 or 2 yards 44 inches wide, with 1 yard of silk or 3½ yards of ribbon for short kimono.

The pattern 5921 is cut in three sizes, small, medium and large, and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two-cent stamp for letter postage, which insures more prompt delivery.)

ONE TROUBLE WITH THE WIRELESS.

(New York Tribune.)

There is one weakness apparently inherent in all wireless communication which will operate more seriously against the telephone than against the telegraph. That is the disturbing influence of sunlight upon the ether waves utilized, which sometimes necessitates the sending of mesages only at night. While long distance transmissions are more affected by this absorption process, it also hampers medium distance messages to some extent. The prospect of having to defer chats with neighbors until dusk would undoubtedly deter housewives from adopting wireless conversation, and the same attitude would naturally be taken by business men, who loath to postpone business talks until the hours of rest. Should human ingenuity overcome this obstacle there would remain the intricate problem of constructing a system of attuning delicate and trustworthy enough to make feasible a wireless "central." With all these tasks and uncertainties, wireless talking will probably long remain a luxury to be enjoyed chiefly by army and navy officers, who will assume the task of perfecting the new system for military service.

Rather Careless

"When I cross the ocean, you bet I won't take that there Lusitany," said Mrs. Malaprop. 'Why, such ha careless ship I never did see. Ev'ry blessed v'yge she breaks her record."

SPOTLIGHTS

"Heart of Maryland" Tonight

Among all first class genuinely dramatic attractions which the management of the La Crosse theater has secured for the present season none will be more gladly welcomed than David Belasco's phenomenally successful American play of love and war, "The Heart of Maryland," which will be presented tonight. The cast will be represented by a company of capable players, and this added to the picturesque realism of its new scenic settings will not fail to charm the large audience which will surely be present to witness its performance.

Such well known metropolitan favorites as Robert T. Haines, Thomas Burrough, Homer Barton, Melville Alexander, Wilton Taylor, Carl R. Hemmen, R. F. Magnue, Robert McIntyre, Francis Learned, E. R. Clifford, Roy La Rue, Albert Wood, Cecil Phelps, C. Carataire, Kate Griffiths, Bertha Maxwell, Virginia Randolph, Alice Leal Pollock and others will interpret "The Heart of Maryland."

Double Performance Sunday

At last the record-breaking musical sensation, "A Knight for a Day," is to be seen here, coming to the La Crosse theater on Sunday, March 8, for two performances and in all its scenic picturesque garb. After a whole year's run in Chicago this operatic comedy craze is to be shown in a few of the larger cities. The scheme of the book involves a will leaving an immense fortune to be shared by the holders of two identical Corsican medals.. There you have a simple plot around which has been woven many pretty songs, some grand choruses and incidents so fast and furious it requires a company of over seventy people to unravel it. The central characters in "A Knight for a Day" are all young persons. The hero himself is an undersized waiter who, having laid hands on certain legal documents, endeavors to pass as a lawyer. His comedy partner is a "servant lady" of a type that might be imagined in a nightmare after searching intelligence bureaus. The balance of a long energetic cast of capable principals are busy all evening helping out with the fun which at times seems as if a tornado had struck the theater, so great is the applause. Seat sale begins Friday morning at the theater candy store.

Ezra Kendall Tuesday

Ezra Kendall has always been known as a funmaker and it is equally well known to the public that George Ade excells as a delineator of laughable types. He has the faculty of creating them with just enough exaggeration to emphasize their peculiarities without making an offensive burlesque. His insight into human nature is as keen as his wit is ready, and Ade's humor added to that of Ezra Kendall's furnishes lines which scintillate and sparkle with every sentience. With these two wonderful humorists as its authors, no play has ever equaled the brilliancy of the lines nor the humor of the situations in "The Land of Dollars," which will be seen here at the La Crosse theater on Tuesday, March 10. Seats ready Saturday.

By Commission

By James J. Montague.

(Important affairs can be best and most speedily adjusted by Commission.—An Admirer of Governor Hughes.)

When a burly buck burglar burst into my flat,
I very discreetly forsook it;
I owned very little worth stealing, at that,
But nevertheless he took it.
I found a policeman outside on the street,
But a mood of cold calmness obsessed him,
And though my late guest had made good his retreat,
I asked that the bluecoat arrest him.
"Just wait, sir," he said, "just remain quite content,
And we'll have a commission to see where he went."

The building I work in one fine afternoon
Got involved with a very live wire,
That twisted and turned through its vitals, and soon
It harbored an active young fire;
I ran to an engine house not far away,
And, waking the men with a shout,
I asked if they wouldn't call round there that day
For the purpose of putting it out.
"Perhaps we will come; perhaps not," they replied.
"We'll appoint a commission, and it must decide!"

When a friend of mine fell 'neath a Subway express
And broke every bone in his body,
We eased him of pain with but partial success
By means of a chloroform toddy.
I summoned a doctor, while striving in fright
A strong ether cocktail to mix him.
"My friend," I observed, when he came, "is a sight;
I trust, my dear Doc, you can fix him!"
"Nice case," he replied, in his medical patter,
"I'll appoint a commission to see what's the matter!"

Unum E Duo

Three youths who were in different cities born,
Did Boston, Newport and New York adorn.
The first in mincing manners far surpassed,
The next in garish dress; in both the last.
The force of Nature could no further go,
To make a dude she joined the former two.

—Bohemian.

ALADDIN OF LONDON

BY MAX PEMBERTON

(Authors and Newspaper Association Copyright.)

"I know as much about them as any of your people, and that is saying a good deal. They are very ignorant men who are suffering great wrongs. If your government would make an effort to learn what the world is thinking about today, you would soon end all this. But you will never do it by the whip, and guns will not help you."

Zaniloff laid a hand upon his shoulder almost in a kindly way.

"My honor alone forbids me to believe that," he exclaimed.

They arrived at the hotel while he spoke and passed immediately to the private apartments above. A brief intimation that Alban must consider himself still a prisoner and not leave his rooms under any circumstances, whatever, found a ready acquiescence from one who had heard an echo in Lois' words of his own farewell to Russia. That the authorities would detain him he did not believe, and he knew that his long task was not here. He must return to England and save Lois. How or by what means he could not say, for the ultimate threat, so lightly spoken, affrighted him when he was alone and left him a coward. How, indeed, if he went to the fanatics of Union Street and said to them,—"Richard Gessner is your enemy; strike at him." There would be vengeance surely, but he had received too many kindnesses at Hampstead that he should contemplate such an infamy. And what other course lay before him? He could not say, his life seemed lived. Neither ambition nor desire, apart from the prison he had left, remained to him.

The French valet Malette waited upon him in his rooms and gave him such news of the Count as the sentinels of the sick-room permitted. Oh, yes, his excellency was a little better. He had spoken a few words and asked for his English friend. Nothing was known of the madman who struck him save that which the papers in his pocket told them. The fellow had been shot as he left the Grand Duke's palace; some thought that he had been formerly in the Count's service and that this was merely an act of vengeance, mais terrible, as Malette added with emphasis. Later on his excellency would be able to tell the story for himself. His grand constitution had meant very much to him today.

The interview took place at three o'clock in the afternoon, the doctors having left their patient, and the perplexed Zaniloff being again at the prison. The bed had now been wheeled a little way from the window and the room set in pleasant order by clever and willing hands. The Count himself had lost none of his courage. The attack in truth had nerved him to believe that he had nothing further to fear in Warsaw, for who would think about a man already as good as buried by the newspapers. Here was something to help the surgeons and bring some little flush of color to the patient's pallid cheeks. He spoke as a man who had been through the valley of the shadow and had suffered little inconvenience by the journey.

"I am forbidden to talk," he said to Alban, and immediately began to talk in defiance of a nurse' protests.

"So you have been to prison, mon vieux; well, it is so much experience for you, and experience is useful. I have done a good morning's work, as you see. Imagine it. I open my door to a policeman, and when I ask him what he has got for me, he whips out a butcher's knife and makes a thrust at my ribs. Happily for me, I come from a bony race. The surgeons have now gone to fight a duel about it. One is for septic pneumonia, the other for the removal of the lungs. I shall be out of Poland in my beautiful France by the time they agree."

He flushed with the exertion and cast reproachful eyes upon the nurse who stood up to forbid his further eloquence. Alban, in turn, began to tell him of the adventure of the morning.

"It was a Jack and Jill business, except that Jill does not come tumbling down," he said. "What is going to happen I cannot tell you. Lois will not leave Poland until her father is released, and I have it from her that he never will be released. Don't you see, Count, that Mr. Gessner is a fool to play with fire like this. Does he believe that this secret will be kept because these two are in prison? I know that it will not. If he is to be saved, it must be by generosity and courage. I should have thought he would have known it from the beginning. Let him act fairly by old Paul Boriskoff and I will answer for his safety. If he does not do so, he must blame himself for the consequences."

"Pride never blames itself, Kennedy, even when it is foolish. I like your wisdom and shall give a good account of it. Of course, there is the other side of the picture, and that is not very pretty. How can we answer for the man, even if he be generously dealt with? More important still, how can we answer for the woman?"

"I will answer for her, Count."

"You, my dear boy. How can you do that?"

"By making her my wife."

"Do you say this seriously?"

"I say it seriously."

"But why not at Hampstead before we left England. That would have made it easier for us all."

"I would try to tell you, but you would not understand. Perhaps I did not know then what I know now. There are some things which we only learn with difficulty, lessons which it needs suffering to teach us."

A sharp spasm, almost of pain, crossed the Count's face.

"That is very true," he exclaimed "please do not think I am deficient in understanding. It has been necessary for you to come to Poland to discover where your happiness lay"

"Yes, it has been necessary."

"Do you understand, that this would mean the termination of your good understanding with my friend Gessner. You would not remain in his house naturally."

"I have thought of that. It will be necessary for me to leave him as you say. But I have been an interloper from beginning, and I do not see how I could have remained. While everything was new to me, while I lived in Wonderland, I never gave much thought to it; but here when I begin to think, I am no longer in doubt. How could I shut myself up in a citadel of riches and know that so many of my poor people were starving not ten miles from my door. I would feel as though I had gone into the enemy's camp and sold myself for the gratification of a few sily desires and a whole pantomine of show which a decent man must laugh at. It is better for me to have done with it once and for all and try to get my own living. Lois will give me the right to work, if she ever wins her liberty, which I doubt. You could help her to do so, if you were willing, Count."

"I, what influence have I?"

"As much as any man in Poland, I should say."

"Ah, you appeal to my vanity. I wish it could respond. Frankly, my Government will be little inclined to clemency, just now at any rate. Why should it be? These people are burning down our houses, why should we help them to build their own? Your old friend Boriskoff was as dangerous a man as any in Poland, why should they let him go just because an English banker wishes it."

"They will let him go because he is more dangerous in prison than out of it. In London I could answer for him. I could not answer while he is at Petersburg."

"My dear lad, we must really make you Master of all these pretty ceremonies. I'll speak to Zaniloff." He laughed lightly, for the idea of this mere stripling being of any use to his Government amused him greatly. His apologies for the indulgence, however, were not to be spoken, for the blood suddenly rushed from his cheeks, and the good nurse intervened in some alarm.

"Please to leave him," she said to Alban in French. He obeyed her immediately, seeing that he had been wrong to stay so long.

"I will come again when you permit me. Please let me know when his excellency is better."

She promised him that she would do so, and he returned to his own rooms. He was not, however, to see the Count again until he met him many years afterwards in Paris. The distressed Zaniloff himself carried the amazing news, some two hours later.

"You are to leave for London by the evening mail," the Chief said shortly, "a berth has been reserved for you, and I myself will see you into the train. Do not complain of us, Mr. Kennedy. I can assure you that there are many cities more agreeable than Warsaw at the present moment."

Alban was not surprised, nor would he argue upon it. He realized that his labors in Poland had been in vain. If he could save Lois from the prison, he must do so in London, in the alleys and dens he had so long deserted. Not toward Wonderland, not at the shrines of riches, but as an exile returned to labor with the humblest, must this journey carry him.

And he bowed his head to destiny and believed that he stood alone against the world.

(To Be Continued.)

When a rosy-cheeked, good-natured Irish girl, fresh from the other side, recently sought employment in the service of a Germantown woman the latter began anxiously to interrogate the girl as to her qualifications.

"Can you cook, Nora?" asked the lady most earnestly. "Are you a good cook?"

"Yes, mum, I t'ink so," responded the girl naivety, "if ye'll not try" to help me."—Harper's Weekly.

TAKE BOY FIRE BUG TO WAUKESHA

HAS BEEN IN SOLITARY CONFINEMENT IN JAIL

AGENT OF INSTITUTION HERE

Owing to Law Regarding Boy Prisoners Lad Has to be Alone While Waiting Trial for Incendiarism

John Olson, the north side boy charged with firing a number of barns, will be taken to the Waukesha Industrial school this afternoon, and the trial which was to have come up at the May term will be allowed to pass by default.

Owing to the law prohibiting the association of older prisoners and boys under sixteen while confined in jails the Olson boy has practically been in solitary confinement since his incarceration and would remain so until his trial.

As he admitted his guilt to several it was decided advisable by the court to have him sent to the reform school instead of to prison after a long wait.

Deputy Rawson of the Waukesha institution is in the city today to take charge of him.

CARL BAUCH HAS NARROW ESCAPE

FOREMAN OF SWITCHING CREW HIT ON THE HEAD

FAILS TO DUCK 'LOW BRIDGE'

Brakeman Michael Fischbach Grasps Fallen Man as He Is About to Roll From Car

Carl Bauch, foreman of one of the switchihng crews on the Milwaukee road, had a narrow escape from death this morning about 10:20, while passing under the Mississippi wagon bridge north of the Listman mill plant on top of a car. His head struck the bridge and he was knocked down on top of the car.

Just as he was about to roll off the car he was seized by Brakeman Michael Fischbach, Jr., who pulled him back, and saw that his forehead had been terribly lacerated.

The young man was rushed to his home at 517 Avon street, where he was attended by Dr. F. C. Suiter. He was resting easily this afternoon. The skull was not fractured.

Second Escape.

This is his second escape in the past three weeks, as he was dragged across the Mill street crossing in front of a string of cars about three weeks ago.

The men were watching for some cars which were being switched for the Listman Mill company, and did not notice that another car was coming down on them. Just as Mr. Bauch struck his head, the car struck his train and jolted him off his feet. Six cars were derailed.

New Jersey Governor May Be Kite Tail of the G. O. P. Ticket

GOV. JOHN FRANKLIN FORT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4.—The other day when President Roosevelt entertained John Franklin Fort of New Jersey at luncheon, the nation began to gossip. They had heard of John Franklin Fort before. They had heard New Jersey suggests his possession of vice presidential dimensions, but when the mighty Theodore broke bread with John Franklin Fort across the White house table official Washington took its first official recognition of this New Jersey governor, and now John Franklin Fort may be said to be an active presidential candidate for the tail of the republican kite.

Less than a year ago Fort was almost wholly unknown as a political factor and sat with dignity and honor on the supreme court bench of New Jersey.

WAKES TO FIND A WOLF AT THE DOOR

FRED KEIZER TELLS OF HOW HE CAPTURED IT

BEAST HAD BROKEN ITS CHAIN

North Side Grocery Employe Has a Novel Experience—Animal Being Held for Owner

Despite the fact that he awoke this morning to find "a wolf at the door" Fred Keizer is in pretty good shape both financially and otherwise.

Mr. Keizer, who resides at 712 Cass street, and is employed at L. E. Lavaque's, is in the habit of getting up early, and arose at 5 o'clock this morning as usual. What was his surprise upon looking out of the window, he says, to see a full grown wolf sitting on the door step calmly munching some corn stalks. He says he pulled on his clothes and went out. The animal gave a bound and made off but a chain, several feet long was on its collar and Mr. Keizer stepped on this and tripped it. He says he succeeded in catching the animal and after getting hold of the end of the chain the farthest away, started to approach, hand over hand. He got within reach of the beast when, he says, it made a lunge at him and tore a portion of his sleeve away and came nearly taking a mouthful of flesh.

Mr. Keizer, who is a natural "animal man," soon gained the confidence of the animal and had it as tame as a house dog, he says.

"Oh, no," said Mr. Keizer, when talking of the matter this morning. "I'm not superstitious and the fact that I awoke to find a wolf at the door won't annoy me in the least. In fact he will help to keep the others away."

The animal, which was of a large species, had evidently escaped from its owner and had wandered into the yard. It will be held until identified.

SAMARITANS TO HOLD 2ND BANQUET

The contest of the Modern Samaritans closed last evening with a banquet in honor of Imperial Grand Samaritan John Christi of Dubuque. Although the contest came to a close last evening the announcement of the winners will not take place until the committees in charge have counted the new members of each lodge and after this work has been completed another banquet will be held, at which th winning side will be the guest of the losers.

At the meeting last evening at the Woodman hall, the meeting place of the Clover Leaf Council, a joint session was held and an address on the work of the organization was given by Imperial Grand Samaritan John Christi, who went over the work of the lodge since its first meeting and the work gained during the time past.

Following Mr. Christie's address, a banquet was held which was attended by the members of the council of the South side and the members of the North side.

SACRED CONCERT AT LUTHERAN CHURCH

The Norwegian Lutheran church choirs will hold their sacred concert at the Charles Street Lutheran church, corner Charles and Sill streets, this evening.

Real Old-Fashioned Baked Beans

HEINZ Baked Beans

Three Kinds—With Tomato Sauce; Plain Pork and Beans (Boston Style); Vegetarian—without Pork.

Any woman will tell you that when she bakes beans she bakes them in the oven. Soaks them over night—parboils them in two waters—then puts them in the oven to bake. There they stay all day and sometimes all night. That's the old-fashioned way—and HEINZ Baked Beans are baked by similar methods, only in ovens that are a little larger and more convenient.

You never ate baked beans so good as HEINZ—so clean and wholesome—for after they are done to a rich, golden brown through and through, they are sealed in tins without solder, and thoroughly sterilized to bring the beans to your table as pure as when baked. Wouldn't you prefer beans baked this way to beans boiled in soldered cans? Then tell your grocer to give you HEINZ Baked Beans.

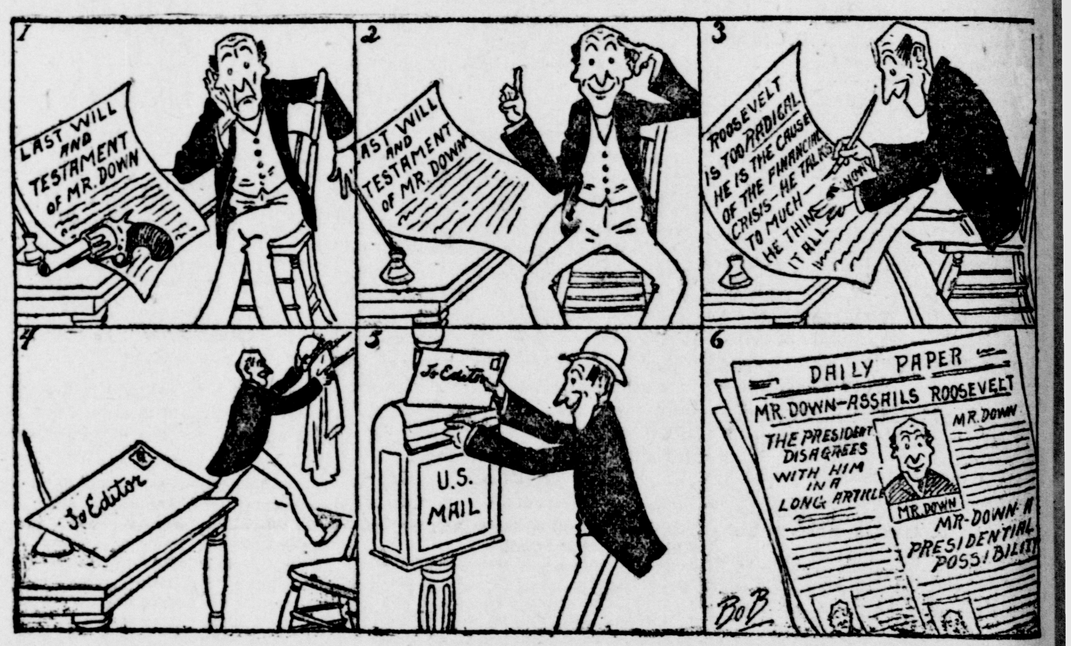

Sold by all grocers—10c, 15c, 20c, according to size.

INSTALLED HEAD OF BELOOIT

BELOIT, Wis., March 5.—Edward Dwight Eaton, D. D., LL. D., was for the second time inaugurated president of Beloit college last evening. The exercises of induction were attended by a large company of students, townspeople and out of town ducators.

$50,00 from Carnegie

At the conclusion of his inaugural address President Eaton announced that Andrew Carnegie had given the school $50,000 to insure the gift of $150,000 from the general educational board, and had further agreed to endow a chair of political economy and finance. The announcement was received with vociferous applause.

Somehow a man feels that his town is not treating him right when he comes back, after a long absence, and finds that it has progressed without him.

There is no denying that gossiping makes time fly, but time deserves something better from people than the desire to see how quickly they can get through it.

"This seems like old times," remarked the facetious customer as he gazed at the grandfather's clocks in the antique shop.

CROSSBACH RELEASED ON $500 BAIL

William Crossbach who was first declared insane and then again examined and found to be sane, has been dismissed from county jail and put under a bond of $500, his hearing to be held in May term of court.

The case ow desertion is said to be very plain. He has been in a stort of stupor for some time and it was impossible for even his own attorneys to get him to answer their questions satisfactorily.

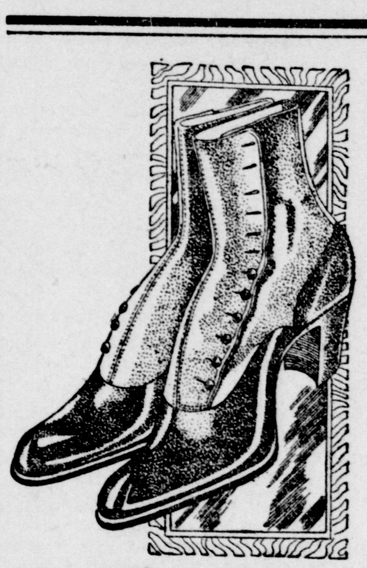

Mr. and Mrs. Devine are the happy parents of a baby boy.

TO THE LADIES!

I might have a gold mine under my store, if I never told any one, no one but myself would ever know it.

Years ago I began to sell a remarkably successful remedy.

I didn't advertise it, and occasionally sold a bottle of it.

This didn't suit me, so I began to let the public know I had it.

Today I'm selling one hundred bottles to my one I sold formerly.

That's the reason you see these ads about Gray's Yerba Santa.

Of course this remedy is an unusual one, being an absolute specific for any kind of a cough, and I've never seen its equal in this respect, but I must let the public know I have it, or it's like the hidden gold mine, and you keep on coughing, while the cure stands on my shelf.

"There's a Reason"

MANY VIOLATIONS OF POSTAL LAWS

It seems that a large number of persons are using mails of the second, third and fourth class for writing communications. Postal Inspector E. E. Fraser has just returned from a trip through Buffalo county and other adjacent territory during which he collected numerous fines for such offenses.

The Law

The law is as follows:

"Matter of the second, third or fourth class, containing any writing or printing, in addition to the original matter, other than as authorized in the preceding section, shall not be admitted to the mails, nor delivered, except upon payment of postage for matter of the first class, deducting therefrom any amount which may have been prepaid by stamps affixed, unless by direction of the postmaster general such postage shall be remitted, and any person who shall knowingly conceal or inclose any matter of a higher class in that of a lower class, and deposit or cause the same to be deposited for conveyance by mail, at a less rate than would be charged for both such higher and lower class matter, shall for every such offense be liable to a penalty of $10."

Many Violations

There are more violations of this law than all the other postal statutes combined, and every postal inspector constantly has on hand a long list of these offenses. Most of them are settled out of federal court by imposing fines of $10.

Ignorance of the law is responsible for most of the violations. Without any thought of its being unlawful many persons, in sending presents to friends, write some little message to enclose with the article. During the past week's trip Mr. Fraser collected a number of fines in Mondovi and other Buffalo county towns.

ANDRUS ACCEPTS IMPORTANT POST

G. S. Andrus, formerly manager of the La Crosse Rubber Mills, has accepted a position with the Aspley Rubber Mills of Hudson, Mass. He left La Crosse last week and entered upon his duties at Hudson Monday.

The rapid growth of the Aspley Mills under the management of President Aspley, who is retiring, has made the putting in of a competent manager a necessity, and Mr. Andrus was selected. He will have complete charge.

The General Demand

of the Well-Informed of the World has always been for a simple, pleasant and efficient liquid laxative remedy of known value; a laxative which physicians could sanction for family use because its component parts are known to them to be wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, acceptable to the system and gentle, yet prompt, in action.

In supplying that demand with its excellent combination of Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna, the California Fig Syrup Co. proceeds along ethical lines and relies on the merits of the laxative for its remarkable success.

That is one of many reasons why Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is given the preference by the Well-Informed. To get its beneficial effects always buy the genuine—manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only, and for sale by all leading druggists. Price fifty cents per bottle.

WHISKEY FOR RHEUMATISM

The increased use of whiskey for rheumatism is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following formula is effective: "To one half pint of good whiskey add one ounce of Toris Root Compound and one ounce of Syrup Sarsaparilla Compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and before retiring."

It is surely worth trying by anyone who may be afflicted.

HER TRUE ROLE IS DISCOVERED

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 5.—Under the guise of charity, for nearly six years, Miss L. Dermond Phillips, a remarkably pretty woman member of the leading women's clubs, has been collecting subscriptions which, it is alleged, she has been using for her own support. She was arrested, and when taken to a cell in Central police station, broke down.

Miss Phillips has been under suspicion for five years and complaints have been coming to the police against her at regular intervals, but she always managed to elude them. She has been securing cash subscriptions for a publication in New York named Charities and Comments, also for the "Kindergarten Industrial association." The police cannot find the latter organization.

ENTERTAINS FRIENDS AT A BIRTHDAY PARTY

Arnold Lund entertained a number of his friends Tuesday afternoon at his home, 140 South Twenty-third street, in honor of the 12th anniversary of his birth.

The afternoon was spent in playing various games and several prizes were awarded to those who succeeded in carrying the most peanuts in the peanut game. The head prize was won by Miss Gudren Braathen and the consolation prize was awarded to Miss Barbara Braathen. Supper was served at 6 o'clock.

Those present were the Misses Ragnold Braathen, Hazel Swensen, Agnes Swensen, Barbara and Hilda Braathen, Esther and Elsie Guenther, Esther Knutesen, Helen Johnson, Ethel Lund, Harold Johnson, George Swensen, Francis White, Allen and Bennie White, Arthur Bukkum, Jelmar Hagen and Arnold Lund.

CELEBRATES NINETY-THIRD BIRTHDAY

A pleasant gathering was held at the home of Mr. Stengrim Olson on Fifth and Mississippi street yesterday afternoon, the occason being Mr. Olson's birthday.

Mr. Olson was born in Norway, March 4, 1815, therefore he is ninety three years old and has lived nearly a century.

His physical health seems very good and he bids fair to see 1915, but his mental powers have failed quite rapidly in the last few years, although he is yet able to carry on a conversation, and goes to church occasionally.

A very pleasant time was spent by the aged couple yesterday, and refreshments were served. Some who could not be present remembered them with flowers. Among the guests were Rev. Anderson and Rev. Holdseth. Next May the same friends will celebrate Mrs. Olson's birthday, she being nearly ninety.

BRIDGE PARTY.

Mrs. Ed. Hebberd of 912 Cass street entertained at three tables of bridge, followed by luncheon on Tuesday afternoon. The honor guest was Mrs. Arthur J. Hebberd of Minneapolis who has been here for a short visit. The head prizes were won by Mrs. Soderberg and Mrs. Arthur Hebberd.

GERMAN READING CLUB

Mrs. Peter Newburg entertained the ladies of the German Reading club at her home on Cameron avenue yesterday afternoon. About twenty-five were present and refreshments were served at 6 o'clock.

STABBED TO DEATH

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis., March 5.—The body of Mrs. Rice Hill, an Indian woman, about sixty years of age, was found in a room at the Best boarding house yesterday morning. She had been stabbed. An inquest is being held.

JAIL GERMAN AT PITTSBURG

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 5.—Feaeral authorities are exerting themselves to rid the community of people of anarchistic tendencies, and Reinbach Bass, who recently came here from Germany, has been jailed as one of the first results of this crusade. Robert D. Layton, immigrant inspector, is awaiting insructions for Bass' deportation. It is charged that he was an avowed anarchist before coming to America.

DEMANDS CASH OF ST. LOUIS PRIEST

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 5.—The Rev. Father Timothy Dempsey, pastor of St. Patrick's church, and proprietor of two hotels for homeless men, has received a letter demanding that he leave $500 on Eads bridge Friday night. Father Dempsey notified the police.

Beans vs. Meat

Beans and meat have about the same food value, but not the same cost

Which would you rather serve?

Beans are 23 per cent nitrogenous—84 per cent nutriment. They are Nature's choicest food. If you could serve them once a day, think how much you would save on your meat bills.

Will it not pay you to get the best beans—beans that are always ready—beans that your people will want?

Encourage your folks to eat beans. They are appetizing, hearty, cheap

You who serve home-baked beans don't serve them often, because they are hard to prepare and hard to digest.

Beans, to be digestible, must be factory cooked. Your oven isn't hot enough; you can't break down their fibre.

And beans should be baked in live steam, as ours are. Then they are mealy and nutty and whole.

Van Camp's pork and beans baked with tomato sauce

The beans that we buy cost $2.10 per bushel. Other beans sell as low as 30 cents.

We spend five times as much to make our tomato sauce as other sauce costs ready-made.

That's why some brands may be cheaper. But the most economical, in the long run, are those that your people like.

Our beans, our tomato sauce and our pork are baked 90 minutes together

Thus we get our delicious blend.

And Van Camp's have a nutty flavor, a sparkling zest, a piquant tang that you can't get in other brands.

Keep a dozen cans in the house—a dozen meals always ready. For you will eat more beans than you think you will, when you once get a taste of Van Camp's.

10, 15 and 20¢ per can.

GOLF AND GASOLINE FOR JAP COUNCILLOR'S WIFE

Mme. Miyaoka, wife of the councillor of the Japanese embassy at Washington, who has returned to her native country, is here shown. She takes with her a dozen trunks full of Paris gowns, and announces her intention of continuing to wear western dress when she returns to Japan. She takes with her also, a full set of golf sticks and an automobile.

SENATOR PROCTOR DEAD

WASHINGTON, March 5.—United States Senator Redfield Proctor of Vermont, aged 77 years, died at his apartments yesterday afternoon after a short illness, following an attack of grip. The senator's son, Gov. Fletcher Proctor of Vermont, his wife and several intimate friends were at the bedside. The body will be taken to the old hime in Proctorsville, Vt.

Senator Proctor had been a factor in politics and business interests of Vermont for many years, and was reputed to be one of the wealthiest members of the senate.

A fellow sometimes feels that there are more achers in his mouth than in a square mile.

Rheumatism

Do you want to get rid of it? If so, take Dr. Miles Nervine modified as directed in pamphlet around bottle. In addition to the direct curative properties it has a soothing effect upon the nervous system by which the rheumatic pains are controlled, and rest and sleep assured. It has made many cures of this painful disease, some of them after years of suffering. If it will cure others why not you. If your case is complicated, write us for advice, it costs you nothing and may save you prolonged suffering.

"I was so crippled that I could scarcely walk. After having my shoes on for an hour or two I could manage to walk by suffering the pain. Then I began to have pains all through my system. My doctor told me I had an acute attack of inflammatory rheumatism. I read about Dr. Miles' Nervine, bought a bottle and I commenced to get better from the start and for the past six months have scarcely any pain, and am able to walk as well as ever."

BANKRUPT MUST "DIG UP" $400

JOHN C. LANGE SAYS HE LOST THAT FROM POCKET

MAY BE CITED FOR CONTEMPT

Creditors Refuse to Believe Story of Lost Wallet and Case is Brought for Hearing Here

John C. Lange, a bankrupt of Neillsville, Wis., who operated three creameries in that vicinity, was examined yesterday afternoon at the office of Referee in Bankruptcy Cameron L. Baldwin, and James A. Philip of Neillsville, Wis., was elected as trustee.

Messrs. Sturdevant & Sturdevant appeared for Lange, and Homer C. Clark represented the creditors. Chris F. Grow represented the bank at Neillsville and the other creditors.

An order was made which requires that the bankrupt pay over to the trustee the sum of $400 which he alleges was lost from his pocket.

In case the money is not turned over he will be cited for contempt, and may be given a jail sentence.

MANY WEDDINGS THIS SPRING

Cupid has invaded West avenue and laid siege at seven of the castles. Seven of the young ladies on West avenue are engaged, and it is understood their weddings will occur in a few months.

Pretty Wedding Soon

Three licenses were issued yesterday, Wednesday. Among them was that of Frank J. Ducke, a railway mail clerk, who resides in Hokah, Minn., and Miss Julia C. Miller, the daughter of the cigar dealer, Joseph Miller, 213 Main street, who resides at 423 Madison Court.

Miss Miller has resided in La Crosse all her life. The groom has been employed as a railway mail clerk for a number of years.

The wedding will be held next Wednesday at the home of the bride at high noon. The bride will be attended by Miss Emma Wachs of Winona and the groom will be supported by a brother of the bride, Harry Miller.

Rev. J. Gamm will perform the ceremony.

After the ceremony a reception will be tendered and they will depart on their honeymoon for Chicago and Milwaukee, where they will spend a few weeks.

Other Licenses

Edward Halverson of Houston, Minn., and Lenora Poss also of Hokah were married yesterday by Judge John Brindley,

A license has also been issued to Louis Chapiewsky of the North side and Miss Louise Kempton of this city.

MEDICAL SOCIETY MEETING TONIGHT

The regular monthly meeting of the La Crosse County Medical society will be held this evening in the rooms at the La Crosse club on North Fifth street.

The program for the evening is:

Upper Respiratory Obstruction"—Dr. E. M. Turner.

"The Tonsil as an Atrium of Infection"—Dr. B. C. Dorset.

"Tonsils and Adenoids"—Dr. J. A. L. Bradfield.

The discussion will be led by Dr. E. R. Mulford.

FUNERAL OF MRS. OLSON HELD TODAY

The funeral of Mrs. Anna Marie Olson, who passed away at her home in Minneapolis, was held this afternoon from the residence of Mrs. Matt Evans, 823 South Fifth street, at 2 o'clock and from the English Lutheran church at 2:30. Rev. Clements conducted the services and interment took place at the Oak Grove cemetery beside her late husband, Christian Olson. Mrs. Olson is survived by three daughters.

MIXED CHORUS REHEARSAL SUNDAY

The mixed chorus of the Saengerfest association will hold a rehearsal Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the Frohsinn hall. Oscar Frey will be in charge in preparing for the big concert Easter, in the La Crosse theater or in the Germania hall.

POLICE COMMISSION MEETS

The regular meeting of the police and fire commission was held last evening in the office of the chief of police, John B. Webber.

The secretary said this afternoon that nothing of especial importance was passed upon and that the work of the evening consisted only of the regular order of "routine business."

TO ENTERTAIN FRIENDS.

Miss Hattie Sorgel of the grocery department of Doerflinger's will entertain a few of her friends this evening at her home at 1505 Market street. Refreshments will be served and the evening will be spent in a general social manner.

CHILD BORN TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Oles, 1233 Green Bay street, are parents of an 8-pound baby boy born today.

Card party and dance will be given by the Governor's Guards' Association at Armory hall Sunday, March 8th.

NOT ONLY THE INDIGESTION BUT ALL OTHER STOMACH MISERIES GO

EACH 22 GRAIN TRIANGULE WILL DIGEST 3000 GRAINS OF FOOD AND CURE STOMACH MISERY FIVE MINUTES AFTER.

There would not be a case of indigestion here if readers who are subject to Stomach trouble knew the tremendous digestive virtue contained in one 22-grain Triangule of Diapepsin. This harmless preparation is eaten and tastes like candy, though one Triangule will digest a heavy meal without the slightest fuss or discomfort, and relieve the sourest, acid stomach in five minutes, besides overcoming all foul, Nauseous odors from the breath.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will readily understand why this promptly Cures Indigestion and removes such symptoms as Heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, belching of Gas and Eructations of undigested food, water brash, Nausea, Headache, Biliousness and many other bad symptoms; and, besides, you will not need laxatives to keep your stomach and intestines clean and fresh.

If your Stomach is sour or your food doesn't digest and your meals don't tempt you, why not get a 50-cent case today and make life worth living? Absolute relief from Stomach misery and perfect digestion of anything you eat is sure to follow for five minutes after, and, besides, one case is often sufficient to cure a whole family of such trouble.

Surely, a harmless, inexpensive preparation like Diapesin, which will always, either at daytime or during the night, relieve your stomach misery and digest your meals, is about as handy and valuable a thing as you could have in the house.

CITY MISSION PLANS REVIVAL MEETINGS

At the meeting of the board of directors of the City Mission held yesterday afternoon, arrangements were completed for a big mission evangelistic campaign to be held in the city March 15 to 29.

Tom Mackey and wife of Chicago have been engaged for the work and have won considerable renown during the past few years in this work. They have just completed a session at Minneapolis, where during two weeks they converted 171 people.

Mr. Mackey was converted in Chicago 14 years ago, while tramping over the country, and since that time he has devoted his life to the cause having had charge on one of the large mission homes in Chicago. After the work in La Crosse, Mr. and Mrs. Mackey will open a two weeks' engagement at Salt Lake City.

The revival meeting will also be the opening of the new home of the Mission, the building at 110 North Third street recently ocupied by a farm implement store. A lease was signed today for the new home. The main floor, basement and back rooms of the second floor will be used. The basement will be remodeled and public baths installed, while on the second floor a lodging room will be installed and the main floor will be used as a reading room and meeting hall.

GETS WORD OF BROTHER'S DEATH

F. E. Stam, the photographer of this city, has just received word of the death of his brother at Scio, Ore. The word was not received until after the funeral.

A newspaper of that city contains the following:

"At his home on Feb. 2, 1908, of pneumonia, William H. Stam died, aged 48 years, 1 month and 16 days.

"Two weeks prior to his death Mr. Stam contracted the grip. Neglecting the cold pneumonia developed.

"William Stam was born January 7, 1860. Coming to Scio several years ago he has made teaming his principal business. Being an industrious man, he has prospered.

"Mr. Stam was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America, in which he carried a $3,000 policy: also of the Twenty-five Hundred. He thus leaves his family reasonably well provided for.

"He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emma L. Stam, and two sons, Henry of Detroit and Walter of Scio.

"The funeral occurred from the Christian church on Monday, conducted by Rev. J. J. Evans, and interment was made at Franklin Butte cemetery."

MRS. ROOSEVELT MAY COME.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—Mrs. Rooseevlt, wife of the president, and a party of friends will soon make a trip on the Mississippi river from the gulf, possibly, it is said, as far as St. Paul. They will use the president s yacht, the Mayflower.

HUNT DOWN "REDS" IN CHICAGO WITH ANARCHY BUREAU

or's private office and there met federal, state, county and city authorities, who had been called to take part in a conference to stamp out anarchy.

The Death Oath.

Talk of a band of anarchists bound together with a death th to assassinate city officials, was made yesterday to Chief of Detectives Capt. P. D. O'Brien, one of the men said to have been picked by the organization to meet death, but it is said the officials are now convinced that Averbuch acted alone on his own inspiration, although fired to do the deed by the general incendiary teachings of anarchy.

The startling information was said to have come from the sweating of Leopold Weixelbaum, 40 years old, a jeweler from Kansas City. Weixelbaum admits that he is a socialist and a free thinker. He was brought to the station by detectives as a suspect in the plans to ferret out the actors in the supposed plot to end Chief of Police Shippy's and other city officals' lives.

A Profitless Search

Every clew that was furnished by Olga Averbuch, the would-be assassin's sister; Harry Goldstein, secretary of the Edelstadt group of anarchists; Isadore Maron, Averbuch's friend; H. Abramovitz, the student, and the Stern girl was followed to the end without revealing a shred of evidence pointing to a knowledge of the intended crime by anyone beyond the morbid young man who was shot by the chief.

Stern Girl in Tailor Shop

The arrest of Miss Stern was the most important police development of the day. She was found in a Ghetto tailoring shop by Detective Made Mills of the assistant chief's staff. The information as to the girl's whereabouts came privately to the police. The girl was taken to Schuettler's office and kept there nearly all of the rest of the day, being subjected to frequent questionings by various police officials. Assistant Chief Schuettler talked to her late in the afternoon.

Until two weeks ago the Stern girl lived with the Averbuchs at 218 Washburne avenue. She denied that she was the sweetheart of Lazarus Averbuch or that she knew anything of his anarchistic dreams. She said she was simply a friend of Olga Averbuch. She is a 20 year old Jewish girl, whose most interesting feature is her large, sad eyes, glowing with a deep intelligence.

The police think the girl may be an anarchist, but they are inclined to believe she is telling the truth about her relations with the Averbuchs.

Knew Averbuchs in Kishineff.

"I was born in Kishineff and knew Olga Averbuch in the old country," said the Stern girl. "When I came to Chicago to earn my own living I found her here. I was with my uncle, Samuel Stern, at 21 Frank street, at that time, but when the Averbuchs took the rooms in Washburne avenue I went there to live. I did not know much about Lazarus. He studied a good deal and was gloomy and dissatisfied with his life here. He worried his sister a good deal. He was not my sweetheart. I do not think we thought of each other in that way at all. I was not interested in his reading and am not an anarchist at all. I do not know anything of any plot to kill a police officer."

PAINTED HIS LIPS; WOVE SOX A MONTH

threatened to commit suicide if she did not give him all her fortune. She gave him $25,000."

M. Barboux made twenty-six charges of cruelty against McKee, the last being that he had tried to subpoena witnesses to swear she was intimate with a chauffeur. He was always jealous of his stepson, Hugh, frightening him with a revolver, pinching his arms until the blood came, the attorney said. At Paris he refused to allow his wife to take her meals in the modest hotel where they were staying and sent a servant to buy sardines for her, saying the hotel prices were too dear, charged the lawyer.

Says McKee Wore Socks a Month

McKee's other characteristics, according to Barboux, included spending the day in a pajama costume. He wore socks for a month, the lawyer said.

McKee spent most of his time in writing articles for New York papers signed "Fifi" and "Clarice," asserted Barboux. "He sold his wife's jewels. For a ring which cost $5,000 he took $25. Thirty-two maids left his wife's service owing to his insults."

Mrs. McKee began divorce proceedings in August and McKee has brought a cross suit.

M. Barboux concluded with an unprintable description of McKee, in which he brought charges that McKee used paint on his lips and dyed his eyebrows.

Maitre Labori will give McKee's side of the case March 11.

JENKINS NO SUFFRAGETTE.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—A delegation of Washington newspaper correspondents pounced upon Representative Jenkins today and inssted that he give them an interview respecting the proposed constitutional amendment for woman's suffrage. The question is before the committee on the judiciary, of which Mr. Jenkins is chairman.

Mr. Jenkins said he did not think therer was any likelihood that such an amendment would be favorably considered. He was opposed to it, he said, and he thought the committee would be united against it.

Blobbs—"What does your melancholy friend do for a living?" Slobbs—"He's a window dresser." Blobbs—"Is that why he has such a pained expression?"

GOOD BLOOD

NATURE'S PROTECTION AGAINST DISEASE

The preservation of health and prevention against disease is almost entirely dependent upon pure, healthy blood; every organ, tissue, nerve and sinew of the body draws on this vital fluid for nourishment and strength. Poisons, humors and germs from various sources often get into the blood, and then this great life-stream becomes a source of infection and disease, instead of a nourishing, health-sustaining fluid. Heredity is likewise an important factor, regulating the quality of the blood. Some persons are born with tainted blood from diseased ancestry, and Scrofula in one of its numerous forms is sure to crop out some time in life. Not only poisons in the blood are responsible for disease, but when the circulation is run down and becomes poor and weak in quality, then we see the effect in a general bad condition of health, such as weakness, sallow complexions, boils, and various skin eruptions. All blood troubles require a tonic and blood purifier, and none other equals S. S. S. It goes down to the very foundation of the trouble, and removes every particle of the poison or impurity from the blood. And not only does S. S. S. antidote the poisons, humors and germs, but it possesses health-giving, tonic properties, which build up and strengthen weak, impoverished blood, and fortifies the system against disease. S. S. S. permanently cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Eczema, Tetter, and all other skin diseases and disorders. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

WATER POWER CO. TO CONDEMN LAND

FARMERS TRY TO HOLD UP THE HATFIELD POWER CONCERN

ONE FARMER ASKS $2,000

Big Lake Behind the Dam is Now Filled Up and Stage of Water is Said to be About Normal

Six of the farms along the Mississippi river between Marshland and Bluff Siding will be condemned in the near future in compliance with steps which have been taken for such action by the La Crosse Water Powed company.

This is rendered necessary through what the company maintains are exorbitant prices asked by the owners of these farms for the privilege of setting on their farms poles on which the company can string its power wires to Winona. The right to set the poles between La Crosse and Winona has been secured for the entire distance with the exception of this small stretch. For the rest of this distance the right to set up the poles was readily granted by farmers for about $2 or a little more a pole.

Farmer Asks $2,000

It is maintained by a representative of the company, the farmers have entered into an agreement to bleed the company for all they can get out of them, so that the price asked for setting poles across these six farms is $9,000, one farmer alone asking $2,000. The company has been advised that the farmers have secured legal advice on the matter and are determined to hold out for the high prices asked. The company is equally determined it will not be held up in this manner, so it is now preparing to institute condemnation proceedings to acquire a narrow right of way across these lands. This may cost a little more than the right to set poles amicably secured for the rest of the ditance to Winona from La Crosse, but it will not be anywhere near what the farmers are asking, it is said. Condemnation proceedings are to be instituted at once, as it is desired to commence work on this line at an early date.

It was reported some time ago that the company was to build its wires on the lines of a triangle, a separate line from Hatfield to Winona, with a third line connecting these two cities but this plan will not be followed. A direct pole line is to be constructed from Hatfield to Galesville, and from that place a line will be run to La Crosse and another to Winona. Later a second wire will be strung on these some poles, providing two main power wires to both La Crosse and Winona. These wire lines are to be used solely at present for the conveying of light and power. If an electric railway is ever constructed between La Crosse and Winona the right of way being secured from the farmers between Marshland and Bluff Siding will not be used, as the road will go into Winona over the lower railway bridge, whereas the power line is to go into Winona over the high wagon bridge.

Dam Full—Water Flows

The big lake back of the dam at Hatfield is at last full and the water is flowing over the top of the dam. The dam was closed on December 20, and it has taken two and a half months for the lake to fill up. During all of this time, however, an opening twenty-four feet square has been left at the bottom of the dam, through which the water has passed so as not to cut off the supply below on the river, although this supply has been a little curtailer. Now with the lake back of it filled up it will be possible to keep a more even stage of water below in the river.

To sow selfishness is certainly to reap sorrow.

Kokomo Woman Gives Fortune

To Help Women Who Suffer.

In the past few years Mrs. Cora B. Miller has spent $125,000.00 in giving medical treatment to afflicted women.

Sometime ago we announced in the columns of this paper that she would send free treatment to every woman who suffered from female diseases or piles.

More than a million women have accepted this generous offer, and as Mrs. Miller is still receiving requests from thousands of women from all parts of the world, who have not yet used the remedy, she has decided to continue the offer for awhile longer, at least.

This is the simple, mild and harmless preparation that has cured so many women in the privacy of their own homes after doctors and other remedies failed.

It is especially prepared for the speedy and permanent cure of leucorrhoea or whitish discharges, ulceration, displacements or falling of the womb, profuse, scanty or painful periods, uterine or ovarian tumors or growth; also pains in the head, back and bowels, hearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, weariness and piles from any cause, or no matter of how long standing.

Every woman sufferer, unable to fine relief, who will write Mrs. Miller now without delay, will receive by mail free of charge, a 50-cent box of this simple home remedy, also a book explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer and how they can easily cure themselves at home without the aid of a physician.

Don't suffer another day, but write at once to Mrs. Cora B. Miller, 3137 Miller Building, Kokomo, Indiana.

W. J. Byran Was This Pretty Woman's Unconscious Cupid

MRS. FRANK HEAP SLACK

A romance which had its inception during the progress of the famous globe encircling tour of William Jennings Bryan and party three years ago, came to light at Boston a few days since as the result of the marriage of Mrs. Marguerite Beck, a charming and wealthy young widow of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Frank Heap Slack, a prominent eastern millionaire, who has extensive cotton mill interests at Fall River and other points in Massachusetts.

Both were invited to join the party at San Francisco and first met in that city. As the tour progressed through the Hawaiian islands, to Japan and to Russia, the friendship which had been manifested between the two rapidly assumed a different form. At Stockholm, Sweden, Mrs. Beck, tired and wearied by the continuous round of ceremony incidental to the trip, made the sudden announcement that she would return to the states. Her millionaire lover also developed a strong determination to return to the land of Uncle Sam, and together they made the homeward journey. On their arrival on American soil she continued her journey to her Fort Wayne home,, while he returned to Fall River. True love never did run smoothly anyway, and it seemed that the pretty romance was permanently blighted through an estrangement which developed as the result of a petty grievance.

Upon Mrs. Beck's decision to resume her musical studies at Boston she returned to that city and took up her abode at the Hotel Nottingham in the fashionable Back Bay district. One day she received an invitation to a dinner party. Ae fate would have it, the Fall River millionaire was invited to the same party. The two met and, naturally, as might be expected, the old-time relations quickly ensued. Within an hour's time after the meeting they had listened to the last word in the ceremony which pronounced them man and wife.

SPECIAL COURSES AT HIGH SCHOOL

PENMAN AND ORATOR TO BE SPECIAL INSTRUCTORS

COURSES OUTSIDE OF HOURS

Writing Expert Starts Work Today and Prof. Schubert is Negotiating for Orator

The board of education has secured the services of Mr. J. N. Johnson, an expert penman of New York city, to give lessons in penmanship to those pupils of the high school who desire them. The term will consist of fifteen lessons given outside of school hours, and the tuition is so small that all who wish may be able to attend. Mr. Johnson has had 18 years of this work and has made it his business to teach penmanship in the schools of different cities. At Davenport he had a class of 90 pupils and at Rock Island the class numbered over a hundred. The work will be a great benefit to those who attend as there are a great many of the high school pupils who write poorly. Mr. Johnson will give a fountain pen to the pupil showing the greatest improvement. The term opens today.

Teacher in Public Speaking

Prof. Schubert is trying to put into effect a plan which will greatly aid those students of the high school who are interested in public speaking. He proposes to secure the services of an expert in public speaking to come here and give a series of talks to those who are interested. These talks will take place probably outside of school hours and during the day the tearher will be at liberty to give lessons to those who desire them. Prof. Schubert has his eye on a man who is a professor in the university of Wisconsin and at the head of the Lyceum league of the state.

PROGRESS FOR NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT

The St. Margaret's Ladies' society of the St. James church is progressing well with the St. Patrick's day entertainment which will be staged on the North side. The program has not yet been completed, but will consist of vocal, instrumental music, recitations and dialogues, and some of the best talent on the North side will appear. Miss Mary E. Devine is in charge of the general arrangements.

ST. CHARLES CITY ELECTION

WINONA, Minn., March 5.—St. Charles had a hot fight for mayor at the city election Tuesday, in which Thomas Fay, the present mayor and caucus nominee for re-election, was defeated by J. J. Specter, the citizens' nominee, by a narrow margin of nine votes.

In high finance it is doubtful if you could convince a man that it is more blessed to give than to be a receiver.

SLOCUM'S CAPTAIN IS NOW IN PRISON

This is a picture of Captain W. H. Van Schaick, of the ill-fated excursion steamer Slocum, when more than one thousand persons perished, as she was burned to the water's edge. Captain Van Schaick has begun serving his sentence in the penitentiary for his responsibility for the disaster.

Good for Everybody.

Mr. Norman R. Coulter, a prominent architect, in the Delbert Building, San Francisco, says: "I fully endorse all that has been said of Electric Bitters as a tonic medicine. It is good for everybody. It corrects stomach, liver and kidney disorders in a prompt and efficient manner and builds up the system." Electric Bitters is the best spring medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter; as a blood purifier it is unequaled. 50c at O. T. Erhart's drug store.

Natural

There is a stalwart negro in a town of Alabama whose naturally fine singing voice is the feature of the local colored church choir.

On one occasion, when the singer was suffering from a protracted illness, one of the deacons called to ascertain how the patient was "gittin' on."

"He's got an awful bad cough jest now," explained the singer's wife with a most mournful sigh.

"Well, dat's too bad, dat's too bad," exclaimed the deason, casting about for some means of consolation. Then a happy thought struck him. "Come to think of it," he added, "it ain't no wonder, wif dat strong voice he was pressin' on his lungs! He's shore due to have a cough now 'n' then, ain't he?"—Harper's Weekly.

The Way to the Station

A party of automobilists was touring through Virginia. An accident to the car forced them to take a train home. As they walked down the road seeking some one from whom they could inquire their way, they met an old darkey.

"Will you kindly direct us to the railroad station?" one of the party asked.

"Cert'n'y, sir," he responded. "Keep a-goin' right down dis road till yo' gets to where two mo' roads branches out. Den yo' take de lef' one an' keep on a-goin' till yo' gets to where de ole postoffice uster be."—Success Magazine.

The first thing a woman does after a man caller leaves is to look at herself in a glass.

THOUGHT LAWYERS WERE CHEATING HER

Mrs. J. J. Abmascher of French Island was so confdent that the lawyers of La Crosse were in a conspiracy to rob her of her property that she reported the matter to the Austrian consul at Chicago who had an attorney sent here to look into the case. The lawyer reported that the woman had not paid the interest on a $2,000 mortgage and had failed to pay taxes on her land and that as a result the mortgage had been foreclosed. The woman and her husband had paid down $4,000 on the farm and owed the $2,000.

Mrs. Abmascher had gone to various attorneys seeking to learn the correctness of the title and they were unable to trace it back to when the government owned the land.

After the case had been thrashed out befare Judge Brindley the woman demanded the sanity of her husband to be examined, and when he was found sane she said she only wanted to disprove stories circulated since their land trouble, that he was insane.

COLLEGE PROFESSOR IN SOCIETY.

(Saturday Evening Post.)

We should like to know the collective mind of the college professor upon the proposition that Europe beats us in learning because scholars get more social recognition there than in this country.

The proposition is often repeated in one form or another. What it really means is that, in New York, and possibly Chicago, a distinguished scholar is not asked to dinner by the local aristocracy as often as he would be if he lived in London or Paris. In about every other American seat of learning the university faculty occupies socially what might be termed the bald-headed row. What we wish to know is whether American scholarship is really a plant of so tender growth that it droops in the absence of the smiles of Fifth avenue and the Lake Shore drive. Does the keen intellect which might penetrate the ultimate secret of the stars faint and fail because Mrs. George Washington Smith neglected to invite it to her musicale? The point should be elucidated to a country which spends more for education than any other, and wants its money's worth.

MISS JEFFERSON BACK FROM EAST

Miss Hattie Jefferson, in charge of the millinery department at the Doerflinger store, returned Monday from a two month's trip to New York, and through the east. She went on a cruise to the West Indies, and enjoyed a pleasant vacation, though most of the time was spent in the interests of the Doerflinger store, and in purchasing latest stocks.

A-1

There recently entered the offices of the civil service commission at Washington a dashing young darkey of perhaps twenty years of age, who announced to the official who received him that he desired to "get papers for an examination."

"From what state are you?"

The negro drew himself up proudly. "I am from the first state in the union, sir," he replied.

"New York?"

"No, sir; Alabama."

"But," protested the official with a smile, "Alabama is not the first state in the union."

"Alphabetically speaking, sir, alphabetically speaking," said the negro.—Harper's Weekly.

LA CROSSE COUNTY DEATH RATE HIGH

THREE MONTHS' RECORD SHOWS 127 DEATHS HERE

ENTIRE STATE LOSES 6,053

The Months of October, November and December Showed High Rate of Mortality

MADISON, Wis., March 5.—(Special.)—Including 147 delayed certificates, which were received too late to be included in the quarterly report of the state board of health just issued, 6,053 deaths were returned to the state office during the months of October, November and December. This corresponds to an annual death rate of 10.6 per thousand estimated population.

During the period 127 deaths occurred in La Crosse county, which makes a death rate somewhat above the state average. The rate for La Crosse county is 11.9 per thousand. Of this number 17 were under one year of age; one between the ages of one and four years, and 41 over 65 years of age.

Of the total number eight died of tuberculosis; four of typhoid fever; ten of pneumonia; five of cancer and seven of violence.

Not all the deaths are being reported, as shown by the examination of the returns received from each registration district. "For this condition of affairs the undertaker or other person in charge of the funeral is in most cases entirely responsible," says the bulletin. "The law states that the undertaker, or person acting as undertaker, must file the certificate of death occurred and secure a burial or removal permit prior to any disposition of the body. Any undertaker, who violates this provision of the law, is liable to a fine of from $20 to $200 for each offense."

Deaths in the State.

The important causes of death in the state were: Pulmonary tuberculosis, 397; other tuberculosis, 79; typhoid fever, 115; dyphtheria, 104; scarlet fever, 30; measles, 5; whooping cough, 17; pneumonia, 507; diarrhea and enteritis, 157; meningitis, 120; influenza, 19; cancer, 227; violence, 397, and blood poisoning, 23.

Of the 397 deaths caused by violence, 59 resulted from suicide, 65 were caused by railroads, 40 resulted from accidental gunshot wounds, 31 were caused by drowning, 30 from accidental burns, 14 from accidental poisoning, 10 from street cars and 9 by explosives.

The northern section shows a rate of 1.8 lower than the average for the entire state; 1.1 lower than the rate for the central section, and 2.5 lower than the rate for the southern section.

Births and Marriages.

For the months of October, November and December 11,078 births, 3,982 marriages and 2,792 accidents were reported to the state board of health. The annual birth rate of 19.3 per thousand estimated population, marriage rate of 13.9 per thousand and accident rate of 4.76 per thousand shows a decline in the rates as compared with 1905 and 1906 returns with the exception of births, where there is a gain of nearly one per cent.

The total estimated population of the state of 2,295,000 was obtained by adding to the state census returns of 1905 the annual average yearly increase per thousand from the federal census of 1900 to the state census of 1905 .

WANTS MONEY IN OLD STATE FUND

BENEFICIARY OF WAR ORPHANS DEPOSIT MISSED IT

CLAIMS $1,000 IS DUE

Rock Island Man's Letter Recalls History of War Relief Plan at Madison

MADISON, Wis., March 5.—(Special.)—J. B. Sawislowsky of Rock Island, Ill., believing that he has a claim against the state for probably $1,000, as the result of a fund, left the state during the civil war for the assistance of orphan children, has written Gov. Davidson. He says the matter has just come to his attention and he wants to find out how much money he has coming and in what way he will be able to secure the amount.

A fund of nearly $27,000 was distributed among the orphan children who were cared for in the school in the Sixth ward of this city for soldiers' orphans. To each child $55 was due when he or she became of age. All of the certificates were turned into the treasury, about 579 in all, with the exception of 12. This would indicate that either the 12 had died before the fund became available or they had never learned of the amount due.

Ezra Kendall, in George Ade's Comedy, "The Land of Dollars," La Crosse Theatre, Tuesday, March 10

Mus Prove Claim.

Attorney General Gilbert has written Mr. Sawislowsky to learn, if he had ever possessed such certificate and when he cashed them in. It is probable, if he can prove he has the $55 coming, the state will pay him. Evidently Mr. Sawislowsky is of the opinion he had some money coming as the result of the disposition of the property of the home. In this he is mistaken as this amount of money was turned back into the general fund and has nothing to do with the bequests to the state for the support of the orphan children.

During the war the general government purchased the old Farwell residence located on the shore of Lake Monona, in the Sixth ward, and occupied the property as a hospital, known as "Harvey hospital," in connection with the military post at Camp Randall.

Immediately after the war, encouraged by Governor Fairchild, Congressman B. F. Hopkins, E. W. Keyes, N. B. Van Slyke and others, Mrs. C. A. P. Harvey, widow of Gov. Harvey, obtained the consent of the secretary of war to occupy the property as a home for the children of Wisconsin's soldiers, who had become homeless through the vicissitudes of the war. The home was opened Jan. 1, 1866, largely through the voluntary subscriptions of over $12,000, which had been collected by Mrs. Harvey. There were then 84 children, but this number was greatly increased as time passed. Finally the legislature came to the support of the institution, and a board of trustees appointed by the governor, managed the institution. During the period of its history 683 orphans were cared for in this home. The total expense of the home to the state was $355,000. Subsequently the home was sold and the amount realized turned into the state treasury.

Money Given to Homes.

But in connection with the home, a large amount of money had been left it, to be distributed among the children to assist them in getting a start in life. In April, 1867, Horatio Ward, an American banker, doing business in London, died and in his will bequeathed "to the various homes that have been established throughout the loyal states, for the orphans by the late war for the restoration of the union," $100,000. Of this amount $23,000 was given to the home in the state of Wisconsin. Later $2,000 was added to this fund by the death of Miss Caroline E. Smith, formerly of Waukesha. Certificates were issued and as the orphans became of age they were given $45 out of this fund and later $10 additional was given. About twelve of these certificates were never presented and it is now believed J. B. Sawislowsky of Rock Island is one of those. There is a fund of nearly $600 in the state treasury of this fund, which will later be transferred to the general fund unless the money is called for.

GIVEN UP TO DIE

B. Spiegel, 1204 N. Virginia St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "For over five years I was troubled with kidney and bladder affections which caused me much pain and worry. I lost flesh and was all run down, and a year ago had to abandon work entirely. I had three of the best physicians who did me no good and I was practically given up to die. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended and the first bottle gave me great relief, and after taking the second bottle I was entirely cured." Why not let it help you? O. T. Erhart.

BADGER DEATH MYSTERY.

TACOMA, Wash., March 5.—S. B. Lowell, who was found lying unconscious on the Oregon Railway and Navigation tracks near Starbuck Friday night and taken to Walla Walla, died today without clearing the mystery which surrounded his condition. The engineer of a freight train stopped his engine just in time to avoid running over him. He was barely able to state that he had a wife and son in Appleton, Wis.

ERROR NEARLY PROVES FATAL

CLINTONVILLE, Wis., March 5.—(Special.)—The carelessness of a druggist's assistant nearly cost the life of Dr. W. H. Finney, and the physician's presence of mind alone saved him. Recovering from an attack of grip, Dr. Finney went to the drugstore for a tonic, which was given him in a glass that had just been used for measuring carbolic acid. He immediately grabbed an emetic, and although ill for several days, will recover without much effect.

The society belle isn't satisfied until she is given an engagement ring.

BIB MIGHT HAVE CAUSED DEATH

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis., March 5.—(Special.)—A gauze bib was the cause of severe wounds to the infant son of Jacob Longway, of this city, and the child will be disfigured for life. The mother left the baby near the stove for a few moments, and the flimsy bib caught fire from a spark, terribly burning its face.

Another rush of business such as we had last week. Our "dollar a dozen" photos are proving to the people every day just what we claim for them. The greatest bargain in high class photographs La Crosse has ever seen or ever will see again. No graft or humbug about this. Just simply, you get one dozen photos fully retouched, and made by a talented portraitist of many years' experience for $1.00. Money refunded if not satisfied. De Luxe Studio, over Lyric theater. Old phone 8504, Main street.

NORTHWEST IN BRIEF

MITCHELL, S. D.—Cards are out announcing the coming marriage of Miss Mary Grace Windle of this city and Mr. Ralph Stevens Wickersham of Chicago, which will take place in this city on Wednesday, March 11, in the Methodist church.

FORT DODGE, Iowa.—A telegram has been received here stating that the senate committee has favorably reported the bill for $130,000 for rebuilding the postoffice. On request of Senator Allison, the bill passed unanimously.

FARIBAULT, Minn.—A large number of farmers held a meeting in Dundas to consider the matter of establishing and building a large co-operative creamery at that place, and the plant probably will be established in the spring.

PAT "SOAKS" WIFE AT CHRISTENING

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 5.—Thomas O'Mally was sent to the workhouse for fifteen days on a charge of assault and battery preferred by his wife, Bridget O'Mally. A young son was being christened at the O'Mally home. During the festivities a fight ensued among the relatives.

Mrs. O'Mally received a black eye, which, she said, was inflicted by her husband.

MAYOS GIVE CITY $12,000

ROCHESTER, Minn., March 5.—A gift to the city of Rochester by Doctors W. J. and C. H. Mayo of $12,000 was announced at the meeting of the common council. The money, it is specified, shall be used for park purposes and $1,000 is to be expended at once in the purchase of the Kalb property adjoining Market place, where it is proposed to establish one of the most beautiful parks in this section of the state.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

HAMLINE MEDICS ABSORBED BY U.M.

PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS TAKEN OVER BY STATE

LOST OUT IN COMPETITION

Smaller School Did Not Prosper and Passes into Hands of Minesota

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 5.—The medical dearment of the university of Minnesota has absorbed the College of Physicians and Surgeons, the medical department of Hamline university. The affiliation is to take effect at the opening of the school year next fall. The taking over of the Hamline medical department is the result of action taken by the faculties of the medical departments of both universities and ratified today by the board of regents of he university of Minnesota.

Ninety students now in the College of Physicians and Surgeons will be transferred to the medical department of the state university next fall. The Hamline college will maintain identity as an organization until these students have been graduated.

The amalgamation is the result of a recognition by the faculty, and the stockholders of the College of Physicians and Surgeons that the smaller institute could not keep pace with the expensive requirements essential to the modern study of medicine, to the extent made possible for the university of Minnesota with the state behind it.

The stockholders found it a question of apparatus, laboratories and material, so they made advances looking to amalgamation with the university of Minnesota. The final steps, with the exception of ratification by the board of regents of the state university were taken at a meeting of the faculties of the two medical schools last night.

MAN OFFERS SELF AS NEWSPAPER PREMIUM

IOWA FALLS, Iowa, March 5.—Swift Falls, Minn., has a man who is willing to pose as a newspaper premium in the shape of a husband for the successful winner in a newspaper contest in this county. K. Knutson is the Minnesota man who is willing to get into the game, but he wants to pass on the winner of the prize before he takes any nuptial pledges. Some weeks ago, Frank E. Furry, editor of the Alden Times, proposed offering a husband to the winner of his newspaptr contest instead of a piano as has been the custom. The novelty has appealed to both sexes and Mr. Furry has had many inquiries, among them one from Mr. Knutson, who is willing to be "premium" if the winner suits him. He is willing to furnish references, socially, financially and politically.

NOTICE TO OUR CUSTOMERS

NEW ALBIN, IA.

Ed Fish was a Lansing caller between trains on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bock have returned from a two weeks' visit with relatives at Dubuque.

Mrs. H. C. Boyer was a La Crosse shopper Tuesday.

Miss Tillie Gleen of Lansing visited over Sunday with friends.

Mrs. George Kumpf entertained Thursday in honor of her sister, Mrs. Squire Heath of Benson, Minn.

Mrs. Joy Robinson returned on Monday to her home in Dubuque after visiting relatives in the city.

Born, on Thursday last, to Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Gillette, a boy.

Jim Regan, who has been the west side barber of several years, left last week for pastures new, having disposed of his shop to Mike O'Garahty. Jim will visit with his sister at Cassville, Wis., for some time.

The Misses Fannie and Mae Brophy of Lansing visited for several days with the Eugene Kerrigan family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Bock spent Sunday at La Crosse, the guests of the W. Cutting family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fish have been visiting the last week with relatives in the city.

The entertainment given last Friday evening by Miss Fanny Lapham, assisted by the male quartette of the M. E. church, was considered very good. Miss Lapham is an excellent elocutionist and the male quartette is hard to beat.

The fire bell rang again on Saturday night, and called out the fire department. It was a chimney fire at Mrs. Botsford's home, and was speedily extinguished.

Mrs. H. Martin entertained Monday in honor of Mrs. Sargent, who left on Tuesday for her home in Dakota.

Miss Emma Anderson of Lansing spent Sunday in the city, the guest of Miss Marguerite Cox.

Mrs. A. B. Travis and daughter Marguerite visited for several days with friends at Lansing.

Mrs. Squire Heath departed on Monday for her home in Benson, Minn., after visiting relatives for several weeks. She was accompanied to La Crosse by C. J. Travis.

Mrs. Ed. Collins went to Lansing Tuesday to attend the wedding of Geo. McGarry and Miss Flossie Sherman.

Margaret Gabbeth was a Lansing visitor for several days this week.

BOYS PULL OFF A BIG ROBBERY

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 5.—A trio of boy burglars were arrested yesterday in Minneapolis by Detectives Howard and Neary, charged with entering the Hathaway & Shafts Shoe company building and stealing about 200 pairs of shoes, values at nearly $800.

IS SHOT ON DOORSTEP

DULUTH, Minn., March 5.—When Charles Johnson, a water tender at the plant of the Zenith Furnace company walked to the rear of the engine room about 11:30 to shut a door which was standing wide open, and while there peered out into the darkness, a man leaped toward him and fired a revolver at him, the bullet lodging in the groin.

No Use to Die.

"I have found out that there is no use to die of lung trouble as long as you can get Dr. King's New Discovery," says Mrs. J. P. White, of Rushboro, Pa. "I would not be alive today only for that wonderful medicine. It loosens up a cough quicker than anything else, and cures lung disease even after the case is pronounced hopeless." This most reliable remedy for coughs and colds, la grippe, asthma, bronchitis and hoarseness, is sold under guarantee at O. T. Erhart's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

SWEDEN ADOPTS A BEAUTY CONTEST

CHICAGO IDEA SPREADS TO EUROPEAN LANDS

AFFINITY BUREAU'S SHOCKED

Jail Makes Long Lives—"Chicago" Is a Much Abused and Misspelled Word

Chicago News and Gossop

CHICAGO, March 5.—The culmination of the "beauty contests" started in Chicago which finally threw the spotlight upon Miss Marguerite Frey of Denver, as the most beautiful woman in the United States, has led to a similar contest in Sweden, with the result that Miss Jane Lundstrom of Stockholm has been selected. She is 20 years old and a blond with bluish gray eyes, rosy complexion and "superb" figure, and of course, is a descendant of the ancient vikings. The contest aroused the greatest interest through the kingdom and pictures were forwarded to the judges from all of the more important cities, and from a large number of small towns and vilages of the country districts. The beauty contests, started in Chicago, have spread to the nations of the forld and everywhere in the civilized countries newspapers are endavoring to locate the "fairest woman of the realm." The wave of interest in the contests has brought out strikingly national conceptions of beauty, the effect of geographical position on popular opinion being shown as it has been in no othed way. Sweden has just selected a blond, Miss Frey, the American beauty, has as one of her greatest attractions beautiful copper-colored haid, while the central and southern European countries almost inveriably have pronounced for decided brunettes.

Sweden Has a Beauty Contest.

Matrimonial agents who offer to find "affinities" at $5 per, are discouraged at the ict of United States States District Attorney Sims and Postoffice Inspector James E. Stuart. The establishment of ths guilt of one matrimonial agent, has been followed by grand jury inevstigations of a number of others, and there have been letters, application blanks, photographs and affinity literature submitted to the scrutiny of a grand jury. Some of the questions asked in the application were: "What is the value of your property?" "What amount do you expect to inherit?" "What is your disposition?" "Dress stylish or plain?" One picture submitted was of a well known actress who says she had made no application. Other instances of fraudulent use of pictures have been submitted to the grand jurors. In each case the person whose picture had been sent to the applicant denied any correspondence with the bureau. Some of the agencies have advertised extensively in magazines and papers under such headings as "Are you unhappy?" "Do you want to be married?" "Affinities secured," and the like. That the matrimonial agency business is a lucrative one is shown by the costly clothing and jewelry worn by the "affinity finders," who have been brought before the United States officers. One recently found guilty maintained a large staff of stenographers, had her motor car, and was much sought after socially.

Affinity Bureaus Are Shocked.

People in prison live longer than they would if at liberty, is the startling conclusion to which Health Commissioner Evans has come after investigating the vital statistics of the Joliet and Michigan City penitentiaries. To illustrate: The death rate at Joliet for persons between the ages of 20 and 60 was only 7.73 per cent as compared with 11.22 per cent for people between the same ages residing in the city. "A study of the figures brings me to the conclusion that a man between 20 and 60 years of age living in Chicago will improve his chances of living 34.6 per cent—11.22 compared with 7.73—by going to prison at Joliet," he stated recently. Control, food, temperance, habits, sanitation and plumbing within prison walls, all operate to bring about longer life, and yet no one in Chicago is trying to break in to try it. The prison discipline makes it impossible for the man to dissipate, the work is so arranged that he will not over-exert himself, and regular hours are compulsory—the times of retiring and arising always being the same. Irregularity, Dr. Evans concludes, kills men much faster than monotony. The only persons who are less likely to find their health benefited by prison life are consumptives.

Go to Jail to Live Long.

There are twenty-one different ways of misspelling Chicago and most of them are used thousands of times a year is the latest discovery of the postoffice department. Some of them are such perfect disguises that they could safely be used as code, or figure on a railroad tariff sheet for the benefit of oil trusts and other corporations that might be in on the secret. Yet Uncle Sam's lightning-witted postal clerks manage to decipher them every day and in addition they will tell you in a great many cases the nationality of the man who wrote the address. Here is the official list of the 21 varieties:

Many Ways to Misspell "Chicago."

Chicagow, Chicago, Chicawgo, Chkkago, Chiggaggo, Chiggogo, Cheegago, Chirgago, Shechago, Shikkago, Shercaggo, Shakakko, Schuerkaigo, Psceschago, Stischago, Tschakko, Tzstchago, Stktschagko, Schenkakko, Zheckako, Stschaggo.

Most of the versions are evident attempts to spell the name of the city as it sounds when pronounced and hence should have the official sanction of the Roosevelt spelling reform. Others suggest birth in a moment of inspiration in the recesses of some Polish or Hungarian or Lithuanian brain and are calculated to mae a Slovak "hunkie" feel homesick at sight. As Chicago has a foreign-born population of over half a million persons there are doubtless many other misspellings in current use but these are the principal ones which so far have come to light.

When a very old girl becomes engaged she doesn't care if people know about it.

Courtship is expensive, marriage is more so, and alimony—well that's the limit.

Wigg—"Your English friend seems determined to mind his "p's and "q's." Wagg—"Yes, but even so he still drops his "h's."

HE WAS OBLIGING.

Cholly Knickerbocker: "Good morning, sir. Could we shoot over your preserves for a few hours?"

Farmer Wayback: "Waal, now, thet beats me. My ol' woman thinks more o' her presarves than she does o' me, but there's a pile o' tin cans back o' the barn ye kin shoot over all day ef ye wanter."
